Mr. McCreary made the following explanation regarding House Bill No. 784:

Mr. President: Two years ago the boundary line between Alachua and Levy Counties was changed by a bill introduced by Senator Williams of Levy County, the new line being run on section lines instead of the boundary line, being an old blind road. This new boundary line was satisfactory to all concerned, as I understood the matter then, Alachua County giving up the most territory but getting a few more people. When the question of again changing the boundary was taken up with me during the present session, I expressed my opposition, but finally agreed, through my friendship for Mr. Epperson, member of the House from Levy County, that I would not oppose the bill if he succeeded in passing it through the House. And now, Mr. President, inasmuch as Mr. Epperson has succeeded in his efforts, through the assistance of Representative Adkins and Kite, I shall make good my promise. It seems that some people taken into Alachua County by the Act of 1911 object to the change of residence which the new boundary line imposes upon them, and wish to be enabled to again become citizens of their old beloved County of Levy. Mr. President, I resided in Levy in my boyhood days, and appreciate the feeling of these people, hence, while I believe the line, as it now exists, is better than the proposed new line, I shall not oppose the bill now before the Senate, simply requesting that I be excused from voting on the bill, and letting Representatives Adkins and Kite take the responsibility for its passage.

Mr. McCreary requested that his explanation be spread upon the Journal.

Which was agreed to.

So the Bill passed, title as stated.

And the same was ordered to be certified to the House of Representatives.

The Special Committee to draft Resolutions on the death of Hon. James E. Broome submitted the following report:

Senate Chamber,
Tallahassee, Fla., June 5, 1913.

Hon. H. J. Drane,
President of the Senate.

Sir:

Your Committee appointed to draft following resolutions on the death of Hon. James E. Broome, beg leave to submit the resolution herewith in honor of this distinguished Floridian.

Y. L. WATSON,
H. H. McCREARY,
W. H. H. McLEOD.
Committee.

RESOLUTION ON THE DEATH OF SENATOR JAMES E. BROOME.

To die, when life has almost reached the allotted space of time, when well-performed service to man and country had been the single purpose, and respect of fellow man is bestowed, is not to have lived in vain. Such was the life of Senator James E. Broome, who for more than twenty years so ably, conscientiously and fearlessly represented the Sixth Senatorial District in this body. When the message of his death was brought to the members of this body who had served with him in its many deliberations, sadness filled each heart.

Senator Broome came of a distinguished family, being the son of Governor James E. Broome, who served as Chief Executive of this State from 1853 to 1857. He was born in 1845, at the historic Capital of this State, and his early environments planted deeply in the heart of the youth the sublime element of character, patriotism. When a mere boy he volunteered to go to the front and fight the battles of the Confederacy; suffered the hardships of a private soldier and the cruelty of imprisonment, yet with a dauntless soul he bore the burden without a murmur or a regret.

When the "canister and grape had ceased to fall, and the sound of war was no more," he turned his face towards his native State with the determination to give the best years of his life to its rehabilitation. So well did he impress his fellow-citizens with his patriotic motives that they honored him until death with trust and confidence.

Senator Broome's great service as a legislator and statesman was recognized by his fellow Senators, and many of the best laws of our State are due to his painstaking and careful consideration.

As a public official he served with distinction and honor in all places to which his fellow man had elevated him, ever championing the cause of right, believing that justice should at all times be done; as a citizen he was honorable and public spirited; as the husband and father, devoted and tender; as a friend, true and faithful, and as a soldier chivalrous and brave. His patriotic service to his State is preserved upon its records, his noble life is a memory which is a heritage bequeathed to the rising generations; therefore, be it

Resolved, That in the death of Senator James E. Broome the State has lost a patriotic and distinguished citizen; this body one of its most conscientious and careful legislators, his constituency and able, upright and chivalrous public service, and his family a devoted husband, a tender and loving parent; be it further

Resolved, That the Senate adjourn for the period of fifteen minutes from four to four-fifteen o'clock on Thursday, June 5th, 1913, in memory of Senator Broome.

Mr. Watson moved to adopt the report and resolution.
