On page 1760, between lines 10 and 11 of said page is hereby inserted the following as corrected in open session on Friday, May 25, 1917, to-wit:

"The following message from the Governor was read:

Executive Chamber,
Tallahassee, Fla., May 15, 1917.

Hon. J. B. Johnson,
President of the Senate.

Sir:

In pursuance of the provisions of Section 28 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Florida, I return herewith without my approval the following measure, which originated in the Senate:

"An Act to amend Section 14 of Chapter 6878 of the Laws of Florida, being 'An Act to appoint Naval Stores Inspectors, to prescribe their duties and fix their compensation, to prevent and prohibit adulteration of spirits of turpentine and naval stores, and to provide for the appointment and duties and compensation of a Supervising Inspector of Naval Stores, and to prescribe forfeitures and penalties for violating, and methods for the enforcement of the provisions of this Act, approved June 5, 1915."

My objections to this measure are as follows:

The change in the statute proposed by this amendment is to require inspectors of naval stores to inspect spirits of turpentine or rosin in barrels or bulk of one hundred pounds or more within ten days from the date of notice to such inspectors of the desire of the producer to sell or ship such products instead of within twenty days as now provided by the statute.

This change is, in my opinion, unnecessary. It is to be presumed that the inspectors will make the inspection required at the earliest practicable date after receipt of the notice required to be given, but if the inspection cannot be made within the time prescribed the product may be sold or shipped out of the State without being inspected. If the time given is so short that inspection cannot, with the force available, be made, the result will be that the product will be put on the market without inspection to the detriment of the industry.

This being true, it is best, I think, that the statute be left as it is, and I am, therefore, constrained to withhold my approval from the bill.

Respectfully,
(Signed) SIDNEY J. CATTS,
Governor.

And the Act with the Governor's objections thereto were placed on the Calendar among the orders of the day."

On page 1823, line 2 of said page is made to read "indefinitely postponed," instead of "passed," as it appears in the Journal, in order that the message from the House shall show the true disposition of Senate Bill No. 569 by the House of Representatives.
