SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 1331—

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RELATING TO POLITICAL ACTIVITIES AND ELECTION OF CANDIDATES FOR JUDICIAL OFFICE, ESTABLISHING A STUDY COMMITTEE.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF FLORIDA:

WHEREAS, the Code of Ethics as adopted by the Supreme Court restrict judges in connection with their participation in partisan politics, and

WHEREAS, the state statutes relating to elections require candidates for judicial office to participate in party primaries, pay party assessments and take a candidate's oath swearing allegiance to political parties, and

WHEREAS, there is an obvious conflict between the Code of Ethics and the state statutes relative to the activities of candidates for judicial office, and

WHEREAS, it is possible that candidates for judicial office may be elected more on the basis of their party affiliation than their suitability for the bench, and

WHEREAS, it is imperative because of the nature of their position that judges maintain a neutral position with regard to all clients and attorneys regardless of party affiliation.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate of the State of Florida, the House of Representatives concurring, that a joint study committee be established to be composed of the Legislative Council and the Judicial Council whose purpose shall be to make a thorough study of the election of judges with particular reference to party participation and party affiliation and report its findings and recommendations, including proposals for corrective legislation, to all members of the legislature not later than the opening day of the 1965 legislative session.

The committee shall meet within a reasonable length of time after the effective date of this act to select from among its members a presiding officer and such other officers as may be necessary and to establish rules of procedure as may be necessary.

The objective of this study shall include:

1. An examination of the relationship between judicial candidates and partisan politics.
2. The conduct of elections insofar as candidates for judicial office are concerned.
3. The feasibility of establishing nonpartisan primaries and the relieving of judges from the requirements of a candidate's oath pertaining to party allegiance as well as the mandatory payment of party assessments.
4. A complete rewriting of the state election statutes insofar as the election of judicial officers is concerned.
5. Such other problems as may become apparent during the course of the study.

Consent was granted by a two-thirds vote of the members of the Senate, and Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1331 was read the first time in full.

(3) The legislative council may by the affirmative vote of a majority of its members, enact local and special acts and exercise any and all legislative powers for county or municipal purposes, except those hereinafter specifically reserved unto the legislature. The legislative council may, by local law, provide for the payment by the county of reasonable expenses of the council.

(4) The powers of the legislative council shall be cumulative and supplemental to those of the Florida legislature. Nothing in this section shall limit or restrict the powers of the legislature to enact general or special laws which relate to counties having a legislative council or to municipalities therein; or to any municipality in counties having a legislative council.

(5) Action of a county legislative council shall not conflict with the provisions of this constitution or general laws applicable to such county and any other one (1) or more counties of the state of Florida; provided, however, that action taken by the council may conflict with, modify or nullify any existing local, special or general law applicable only to any such county having a legislative council or any municipality therein only as expressly so intended and stated.

All laws passed by the council shall be published as required by Article III, Section 21 of this constitution, or shall provide that such law will not become operative or effective until approved at a referendum election to be called and held in the territory effected in accordance with the provision for such election contained in such law, or as otherwise provided by general law. Proof of such publication shall be filed with Secretary of State.

Section 7. Should any proposed law considered by the legislative council be disapproved by one half of the members of the House of Representatives serving as members of such council or any Senator serving as a member of such council, such proposed law shall not pass.

Section 8. Laws passed by the legislative council shall become effective sixty (60) days after final adjournment of the meeting of the council at which such law is enacted, unless otherwise provided in such law. All laws passed by the legislative council shall, before becoming law, be presented to the Governor; if he approves it he shall sign it. If any bill shall not be approved within ten (10) days after it has been presented to the Governor (Sundays excepted) the same shall become law, in like manner as if approved. If the legislative council, by final adjournment of its meeting, prevent such approval, such bills shall become law, unless the Governor, within twenty (20) days after such adjournment, shall file such bill with his objections thereto, in the office of the Secretary of State, who shall lay the same before the Senate at its next regular session, whereupon it shall be reconsidered by both houses of the legislature in the same manner as if it were a bill originating in the Senate enacted during a regular session of the legislature which had been vetoed by the Governor.
