SCR 1045—A senate concurrent resolution providing for appointment of a committee of house members, senate members, and the attorney general to make a study of proposals for local county government; requiring said committee to report and file recommendations to the next legislature.

WHEREAS, various counties of Florida have determined a need for some form of authorization for local county government to solve certain of their present problems exists, and

WHEREAS, the attorney general in his report to the 1965 legislature has recommended a constitutional amendment to permit certain limited authority to the boards of county commissioners of the several counties of the state to improve and institute local services by special resolution, and

WHEREAS, several different proposed local county government constitutional amendments and statutes have been submitted to the 1965 legislature, and

WHEREAS, there are serious questions as to the constitutionality of some of such proposals, and

WHEREAS, it is desirable that any local county government constitutional amendment should be adaptable so that county government throughout the state could maintain some degree of uniformity with special attention to particular local circumstances as distinguished from sixty-seven forms of government in the several counties, and

WHEREAS, there are many diverse and complex problems to be considered in relation to the counties of Florida in such fields as services, taxing power and the limited or general nature of the authority to be delegated, and

WHEREAS, because of the many problems involved and because of the many different views as to the form and content of a permissive local county governmental constitutional amendment, more study is required before any specific recommendation is made to the legislature, and

WHEREAS, the attorney general, as the chief legal officer of the state of Florida, in connection with the preparation of advisory opinions at the request of county officials has maintained a continuing study of the laws pertaining to local county government, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Florida, the House of Representatives Concurring:

That a committee of seven (7) persons forthwith be appointed to study the problems and the needs of the counties for limited authority under which boards of county commissioners may improve and institute local services by resolution. The study shall consider services needed, methods of financing such services as may appear advisable, and the delegation of limited legislative authority to provide or improve local services by resolution.

The committee shall consider the relationship between the municipalities and the counties to the end that the best interest of both be served in overlapping areas of government, the availability of various services without duplication and the relationship between the municipal and county taxing authorities.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the president of the senate forthwith appoint three (3) members of the senate to this committee and the speaker of the house forthwith appoint three (3) members of the house of representatives to this committee.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the attorney general, as chief legal officer of the state of Florida, shall serve with the above appointees as a member of this committee.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the committee may appoint advisory committees in such areas and places as deemed advisable to secure information necessary for preparation of its report to the legislature. Members of this committee and members of such advisory committees shall receive no compensation for their services, but shall be authorized official travel expense reimbursement under Section 112.061, Florida Statutes. The committee may hold public hearings in such areas and places deemed advisable to secure information necessary for preparation of its report to the legislature.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that such committee make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the senate and to the house of representatives not later than thirty (30) days prior to the next regular session of the legislature.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that it is the sense of the legislature that this committee make a thorough study of all aspects of the government of the counties of this state, including the governmental policies and practices obtaining in the several counties. To this end, the legislature urges this committee to fully utilize the knowledge, experience and abilities of the state auditor, county attorneys, county fiscal advisors, and others who have knowledge and experience deemed beneficial to the work of this committee and who are willing to assist this committee on a volunteer basis.

SCR 1068—A concurrent resolution directing the legislative council to make a study of chapter 122, Florida Statutes, and to make recommendations to the 1967 session of the legislature concerning a revision of the aforesaid chapter relative to the retirement of sheriffs and deputy sheriffs after twenty (20) years of service or reaching the age of 65, whichever event occurs first; authorizing the referral of said investigation to a present standing committee of said legislative council for such study; authorizing the establishment of an advisory committee to assist in such study; and providing for the payment of expenses of said investigation to be taken from the current budget of said legislative council.

WHEREAS, the retirement system for state and county employees in the state of Florida does not provide for retirement by way of years of service to the state or county; and

WHEREAS, the state legislature is cognizant of the extra hazardous duty that sheriffs and deputy sheriffs are called upon to perform in the normal course of their employment; and

WHEREAS, the legislature is aware of the fact that municipal police officers are accorded pension plans providing for retirement from the police service after a period of years regardless of age because of the extra hazardous duty they are called upon to perform; and

WHEREAS, the legislature is aware that the sheriffs and deputy sheriffs of this state are called upon to perform similar responsibilities as that of municipal police officers and are required to expose themselves to similar dangers, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Florida, the House of Representatives Concurring:

Section 1. The legislative council through a duly authorized standing committee of the same shall make a study and analysis of the existing retirement system for state and county employees as the same applies to sheriffs and deputy sheriffs of the state of Florida in comparison with the retirement systems established for municipal police officers and, in carrying on such study, will confer with and work with the statutory revision department of the attorney general's office, the Florida sheriffs' association and any committee appointed by said association for the purpose of making such comparative study and examination; and said council shall report to the 1967 session of the legislature its recommendation regarding the aforesaid retirement system as the same pertains to the sheriffs and deputy sheriffs as to whether or not retirement should be provided for by virtue of years of service rendered regardless of age, together with such bills for introduction at the 1967 session as it deems necessary to implement such recommendations.

Section 2. The legislative council is authorized and directed to refer the aforesaid investigation to a presently existing committee heretofore established pursuant to section 11.21 (3), Florida Statutes, to conduct the study authorized by this resolution, and said committee shall have the authority to appoint an advisory committee to assist in this study as provided by section 11.285, Florida Statutes.

Section 3. The legislative council is authorized to expend such funds out of the presently approved legislative budget for said council as are necessary to effectuate the purposes of this resolution.

RECONSIDERATION

HJR 892—A joint resolution proposing an amendment to Subsections (1) and (2) of Section 5 of Article V of the Florida Constitution relative to district courts of appeal; prescribing the number of appellate districts within the state, the number of judges to serve in each district, and the composition of the court; declaring an emergency under Section 3 of Article XVII of the State Constitution; providing for a special election.

By unanimous consent, Senator Johns withdrew the motion made on May 13 to reconsider the vote by which Amendment No. 1 to HJR 892 was adopted on May 12.

The motion of Senator Daniel on May 13, that the Senate reconsider the vote by which Amendment No. 2 to HJR 892 was adopted on May 12, was taken up and agreed to by a two-thirds vote so the Senate reconsidered the vote.

The question recurred on the adoption of the amendment, which failed.

The amendment offered by Senator McCarty, which was pending consideration at the hour of adjournment on May 12, failed. The vote was:

On motion of Senator Cleveland, the rules were waived by two-thirds vote and HJR 892, as amended, was read the third time in full as follows, and failed to pass:

HJR 892—A joint resolution proposing an amendment to Subsections (1) and (2) of Section 5 of Article V of the Florida Constitution relative to district courts of appeal; prescribing the number of appellate districts within the state, the number of judges to serve in each district, and the composition of the court; declaring an emergency under Section 3 of Article XVII of the State Constitution; providing for a special election.

WHEREAS, the Legislature of the State of Florida has de-terminated that an emergency requiring an early decision by the electors of the State does exist, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

That the following proposed amendment of Subsections (1) and (2) of Section 5 of Article V of the Constitution of Florida is agreed to and shall be submitted to the electors of the State for approval or rejection at a special called election as provided by Section 3 of Article XVII of the Florida Constitution:

SECTION 5. District Courts of Appeal.—

(1) APPELLATE DISTRICTS. The state shall be divided into three (3) or more appellate districts of contiguous counties as the Legislature may from time to time prescribe, and there shall be organized a district court of appeal in each district.

(2) ORGANIZATION; NUMBER AND SELECTION OF JUDGES. There shall initially be three (3) judges in each district court of appeal, and the Legislature may provide for additional judges for any district court of appeal and may reduce the number of any district to not less than three (3). Three (3) judges shall constitute a panel for and shall consider each case, and the concurrence of a majority of the panel shall be necessary to a decision. The court shall hold at least one (1) session every year in each judicial circuit within the district wherein there is ready business to transact. After a change in the territorial limits of any appellate district, all proceedings then pending within the jurisdiction of each district court of appeal shall be transferred to the court then having jurisdiction, except causes which have been orally argued.
