SR 1469—A resolution requesting the State Board of Accountancy to study and reappraise the accounting laws and regulations and make recommendations to the next session of the Legislature.

Whereas, the accounting profession in Florida has through the years established and is maintaining the highest standards of ethics and proficiency, placing Florida among the leading states in this field for which both the State Board of Accountancy and the individual accountants of the state are to be highly commended; and

Whereas, the accounting profession is a vital adjunct of the economic system without which Florida cannot realize its fullest industrial development and potential; and

Whereas, in the last decade the industrial and commercial development in the United States in general, and Florida in particular, has been characterized by a rapid increase in the size of businesses with the creation of branch plants or offices throughout the country; and

Whereas, as a result, hundreds of businesses in Florida are either branches of national concerns or have vital fiscal connections with other parts of the country, causing the accounting profession to be faced with the necessity of keeping pace with national business expansion and with adjusting its own firm structures and methods; and

Whereas, there exists a serious conflict between large national accounting firms and the traditional smaller local firms which threatens to damage the profession and the high public confidence it now enjoys; and

Whereas, Florida's accountancy law was enacted in 1931 and has since continued without substantial change notwithstanding the changes in the business trends, methods, and posture of the country except by the gradual engraftment thereof of numerous rules, policies, exceptions and distortions of original statutory purposes in periodic efforts to accommodate the law to changing conditions; and

Whereas, the Florida accountancy law is being subjected to a serious challenge of its basic precepts and philosophies in regards to non-resident practice, reciprocity and its approach to regulation of the profession; and

Whereas, the Senate, being concerned over the prevailing discord and threat to the public image of the accounting profession, believes that a study should be made to determine what changes, if any, are necessary to encourage the continued economic growth and well-being of the state and the profession without lowering the present high accounting standards; and

Whereas, it is deemed that the State Board of Accountancy and the Florida accounting profession have a duty and are best qualified by ability, knowledge and interest to conduct such a survey and to find solutions to the complex problems now facing the profession; now therefore

BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate of the Legislature of the State of Florida that the State Board of Accountancy be requested to study in detail and reappraise the present accountancy laws of the state and its rules and regulations in the light of the current business trends and conditions, adopting such changes in regulations as it deems necessary and recommending to this Senate at its next regular session any changes in the law which it may believe will be beneficial to the state, and to the accounting profession.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be certified to the State Board of Accountancy.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

VETOED BILL 1965 REGULAR SESSION

The following message from the Governor was read:

The Honorable James E. Connor
President of the Senate

June 1, 1965

Dear Sir:

Pursuant to the authority vested in me as Governor of Florida under the provisions of Article III, Section 28, of the Constitution of this State, I hereby transmit to you, with my objections, Senate Bill No. 1106, enacted by the Legislature of 1965, and entitled:

“An act relating to the City of Live Oak, Suwannee county, city elections; amending section 21 of city charter, chapter 21361, Laws of Florida, 1941; providing for the election of all elective officials of the city; providing for a runoff election for such officials; providing an effective date.”

The purpose of this bill is to make the city elections of the City of Live Oak, Suwannee County, Florida conform and coincide with the elections of the State of Florida. It has been brought to my attention, however, that the election dates offered in this bill do not coincide with the effective calendar dates used in state-wide elections, and as so set forth by law. Consequently, this bill does not fulfill the intended objectives of its proponents.

For this reason, I am necessarily withholding my approval from Senate Bill No. 1106, Regular Session of the Legislature, 1965, and do hereby veto the same.

Respectfully,
HAYDON BURNS
Governor

The President put the question: “Shall the bill pass the Governor’s objections to the contrary notwithstanding?”

SB 1106 (1965 Regular Session) failed to pass over the Governor’s objections thereto. The vote was: Yeas—None. Nays—37.

VETOED BILL 1965 REGULAR SESSION

The Honorable James E. Connor
President of the Senate

June 1, 1965

Sir:

I am directed to inform the Senate that the House of Representatives has passed by the required Constitutional two-thirds vote of all Members of the House of Representatives present on June 2, 1965, the Governor's objections to the contrary notwithstanding—

HB 1805—(1965 Regular Session) An act relating to streets, designation, in any county in the state having a population of not less than sixty-nine thousand (69,000) nor more than seventy thousand (70,000), according to the latest official decennial census; designating certain streets of Terra Ceia in such counties; providing an effective date.

The Governor's objections attached thereto, as follows:

The Honorable E. C. Rowell
Speaker, House of Representatives

June 2, 1965

Dear Sir:

Pursuant to the authority vested in me as Governor of Florida under the provisions of Article III, Section 28, of the Constitution of this State, I hereby transmit to you with my objections, House Bill No. 1805, enacted by the Legislature of 1965, and entitled:

"An act relating to streets, designation, in any county in the state having a population of not less than sixty-nine thousand (69,000) nor more than seventy thousand (70,000), according to the latest official decennial census; designating certain streets of Terra Ceia in such counties; providing an effective date."

This bill designates the names of streets in Terra Ceia, Manatee County. The bill is classified by population, and it was passed by the Legislature as a population bill.

Article III, Section 21, of the Constitution of the State of Florida states in part:

"... the Legislature may pass special or local laws. . . . provided that no local or special bill shall be passed, nor shall any local or special law be passed . . . unless notice of intention to apply therefor shall have been published in the manner provided by law where the matter or thing to be affected may be situated, which notice shall be published in the manner provided by law at least thirty days prior to introduction into the Legislature of any such bill . . . provided, however, no publication of any such law shall be required hereunder when such law contains a provision to the effect that the same shall not become operative or effective until ratified or approved at a referendum election to be called and held in the territory affected in accordance with a provision therefor contained in such bill. . . ."

In Carter v. Norman, 38 So. 2d 30 (Fla. 1948), the Supreme Court of Florida held that a statute relating to a particular subdivision or persons of a state, or to particular places of classified locality is a "local law". The Court further held that the classification of counties according to population is permissible in the enactment of a "general law" so long as the classification is just and reasonable, but arbitrary classification of counties by population for purposes of avoiding the requirements of publication of notice of intention to apply to the Legislature for passage of a proposed local law or the insertion of a referendum clause is not sanctioned by Section 21, of Article III, of the Constitution of Florida, F.S.

The object of the provisions requiring a referendum or notice of intention to introduce special or local laws is to insure that the people of the locality to be affected receive fair notice of such legislation and of its substance. The court in State of Florida ex rel. Cotterill v. Bessenger, 133 So. 2d 409 (Fla. 1961), said:

"In the absence of compliance with the constitutional restrictions the law cannot withstand the attack upon it unless it is in truth a general act. . . ." p. 410.

The court in that case held that there must be a reasonable basis for the population classification in order for a bill based on population to be categorized as general.

House Bill 1805 was treated by the Legislature as a general law, however, its obvious purpose or legal effect as gathered from its language is in fact operative only as a local law. This bill is applicable in the State of Florida only to a small section of territory in Manatee County called Terra Ceia. In that singular area only, the bill attempts in effect, to name streets.

No population bill having such a narrowly restrictive application and effect could be construed as a valid general law based upon proper distinctions. The bill is, therefore, a local law applying only to Terra Ceia in Manatee County. It was enacted by the Legislature as a general law. No notice of intention to apply to the Legislature for its passage was ever published, nor does it contain a referendum clause.

For the foregoing reasons, I am necessarily withholding my approval from House Bill No. 1805, Regular Session of the Legislature, 1965, and do hereby veto the same.

Respectfully,
HAYDON BURNS
 Governor

—and requests the concurrence of the Senate therein.

Respectfully,
LAMAR BLEDSOE
 Chief Clerk, House of Representatives
