Senator Friday presented the following point of inquiry:

Mr. President:

If a committee is meeting to consider bills pursuant to proper notice, and due to emergency circumstances, both the Chairman and the Vice Chairman of that committee are absent from the meeting but there is a quorum of the committee present, can the committee properly consider and take action upon legislation pending before it?

The President responded with the following answer to the point of inquiry:

There is no specific Senate rule which covers this point. Senate Rule 2.1 gives the President the authority to appoint committee members and the Chairman and Vice Chairman. It is logical to assume that if the Chairman and Vice Chairman of a committee are absent from a duly called committee meeting, the President may appoint a temporary Chairman since he appoints the permanent Chairman in the first place.

It is stated in Jefferson's Manual, the footnotes to Sec. 407, that where a committee has a fixed date of meeting, a quorum of the committee may convene on such date without call of the Chairman and transact business regardless of his absence.

When there has been a duly called and noticed committee meeting, the committee may transact business despite the absence of the Chairman and Vice Chairman. The President may appoint a temporary Chairman or the members of the committee may elect a temporary Chairman from the members of the committee present at the meeting.

On motion by Senator Horne, Rule 2.8 was waived and the Committee on Rules and Calendar was authorized to provide a schedule of days, hours, and places for the meeting of committees before the completion of the initial thirty days of the session.

On motion by Senator Weissenborn, the following remarks in tribute to the memory of Bill Baggs were spread on the Journal:

Senator Weissenborn: You know none of us is here very long, and it's sort of like sticking your finger in a glass of water, you pull your finger out and you're gone. I don't often offer these concurrent resolutions but I think that the man we are now talking about is one many of you knew. He was editor for many years of the Miami News. His name was Bill Baggs and he died earlier this year. Bill Baggs had been a newspaperman in Miami since, I think, back in the forties. He started out as a reporter for the Miami News and later became editor, but he was best known as a columnist. He was a gentleman who was imbued with the utter necessity in this country of our laws and our society being open to all, and he championed the cause of, in particular, of the Negro when it was quite unpopular to do so. He went to Hanoi twice, for which he was very greatly criticized, during this war, but he went there both times at the express request and permission of the United States State Department in an unpublicized effort to make a peace settlement. After his death, I might also add that he was recognized as a leader in the area of conservation. He received numerous awards, such as the Isaac Walton award. He was recognized with all sorts of awards. I won't list them all. After his death, he didn't know this before he died, we learned that the National Conference of Christians and Jews had awarded him its highest honor of the brotherhood medallion. Bill Baggs served as a member of the Constitutional Revision Commission along with the President of the Senate. He was an uncommon man who cared a great deal about the common man, and those of us who knew him truly miss him. I thought it was appropriate that the Legislature should, both the House and the Senate, take the opportunity of—we can't bring him back, but we can say that we thought he was a good human being and that we're sorry that he died, at the early age of 49 years old. Those who knew him, knew him as a gentleman who always walked around with an easy manner in a rumpled seersucker blue suit. He never outwardly seemed to be disturbed about anything. He was the sort of fellow that carried around all the problems of the world on his back, and I, for one, will miss him a great deal and wanted you to have the chance of passing a resolution saying that we are sorry that he passed on at such an early age.

Senator Friday: Mr. President, I want to join in the comments of the Senator from the 42nd and say that it was my privilege and pleasure along with the President and others to work with him on the Constitutional Revision Commission and other matters. It was during those times that I came to a very deep appreciation of the depth and the breadth of his concern for all of Florida as well as for all the nation. He was an editor of a newspaper in the metropolitan area of Dade County, but when the occasion arose and right, as he saw it, meant taking a stand defending the small counties as well as medium and large counties, Bill Baggs stood up fast and was counted tall. I think that the state is poorer by his loss and we miss him.

Senator Pope: Mr. President and members of the Senate, it was my privilege to know Bill Baggs very early in my association with this legislature. He has been frequently thought of as the editor of the Miami News, a big town paper from the largest city in the state of Florida. Actually he was born in the panhandle of north Florida, I've forgotten what county, but he started out as a small county boy, and he rose to great heights and great success. I think that in addition to his great industry, his belief and confidence in his fellow man was one of his outstanding traits. He was a strong advocate in constitutional revision of the 18 year old voting age and he made a great contribution to the work of that Commission. This is something which he never lived to see come into being but something which I predict will come into being in not too many years. If I could use any one phrase in describing the character of this man, in addition to his great industry and his great courage, I would say that he was unwilling to accept that which is, when that which could be is better.

Senator Askew: Mr. President and members of the Senate, like so many of you, I had the real privilege of knowing Bill Baggs. I think probably he was one of the most interesting and informed, articulate persons that I have had the privilege of knowing since I've been involved in governmental service. We find many people involved in the news media who are good people, they work hard for their community — I don't know of anyone off hand that I think would be more fearless than Bill Baggs because as the Senator from the 42nd said, he championed causes when they were not popular at all. I think he probably is a good example of the American dream of what a person who really wants to work hard enough can do. To begin with, he was a person limited in education and started out as a copy boy, yet I don't know that I've ever met a more erudite person than Bill Baggs. I think that the contribution that he made extends far beyond his early pioneering in human relations in Dade County, but I think it goes throughout all Florida and it goes throughout this nation and I think that it is extremely thoughtful and appropriate that the Senator from the 42nd would offer this Resolution.

Senator Karl: Very briefly, Mr. President, I'd just like to supplement some of the remarks that have been made, because I think it should be said here and generally recognized that Bill Baggs was one of the greatest brains and one of the greatest intellects that the state of Florida has known. Although it is true that Florida is something less because of his passing and that we are not as whole as we once were, I think that we must say for the record that Florida and the United States is a better place for his having been here during the time that he was here.

Senator Chiles: Mr. President, I just want to echo some of the remarks and say as to this man's ability and his courage, I think it would be second to none. I first met him when he was just a name on a column, but then there was a group of us who were concerned about a bond issue that came up. We were trying to see some of the different newspapers and some of them we couldn't get an audience with, but we did get an audience with Bill Baggs. He did listen and even though again it was pretty unpopular, and especially in Dade County at that time, he thought it was bad and he came out very strongly against it time after time. Then again I had the pleasure of serving with him on the Constitutional Revision Commission and as the Senators pointed out, his zeal and the great feeling of confidence and faith that he had in our young people is something that I think had a great deal of influence on me and my feeling for the 18 year old voting. This man had tremendous faith. He also had that same faith in another thing that I remember he espoused so strongly which was the equal rights for women. I think he would be very proud of the recent bill the Legislature just passed. He worked awfully hard to have that provision placed in the Constitution, too, and I echo the remarks of the Senator from the 14th that this is a much better place because he passed this way.

Senator Haverfield: Mr. President and Senators, another side to this great humanitarian that I want to add and that is the tremendous ability and humor he had as a columnist before he became editor of the Miami News. Here was a man who brought humor into the community and to the readers of the News. Those of us from Dade County and those of us who knew him when he was writing his column will recall about the turkey talking to the raccoon and this type of humor that only someone born in the south, in the panhandle, or in this part of the country, could bring to his fellowman. I knew Bill Baggs and had the pleasure of going fishing with him for many years. He was a great man. I would compare him with someone of national stature. I would say that he was pretty close to Will Rogers in the way he would write and the depth of the messages he would bring out in his column when he was writing his column for the Miami Daily News. This gave a great deal of pleasure and a great deal of humor to the people who had the privilege of reading his column. I just wanted to add that to the things which have already been said about this great humanitarian.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 889

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION IN MEMORIAM ADONE DANERI (MAJOR) TOMASELLO

WHEREAS during the long span of years in which Major Tomasello—his friends knew him by no other name—frequented Florida's legislative scenes, he by reason of his innate honesty of purpose, exceptional abilities, good and charitable works, made his way into the hearts of all who knew him, and

WHEREAS his demise on April 25 at Jacksonville Beach has left within the consciousness of the legions who were wont to call him friend, an aching sadness, an abysmal void, and

WHEREAS we would leave upon the sands of time our impression of the man he was and an expression of bereavement at his going, NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF FLORIDA, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING:

That this concurrent resolution be inscribed upon the Journals of the Florida Senate and the House of Representatives as a permanent record:

IN MEMORIAM ADONE DANERI (MAJOR) TOMASELLO

—who was born at Bay Point, Florida, on December 10, 1891, of a politically prominent family, his father having been a pioneer of Santa Rosa County and an early promoter of the bridge giving Pensacola access to the rest of Florida across Pensacola and Escambia Bays. He was a graduate of Riverside Military Academy at Gainesville, Georgia. In December, 1914, he married Miss Dora White, who predeceased him on April 10, 1966. To them was born a son and a daughter, the former, William Tomasello, Bartow attorney, recently deceased. He was a resident of Okeechobee for some years but in 1930 moved to Bartow, which place remained his permanent home. He saw considerable service as a state employee, in the Department of Agriculture and then in the Office of the State Treasurer.

In World War I he served with the 328th Infantry, 82nd Division, first commissioned as Captain and later on the battlefield was promoted to the rank of Major. He experienced four major engagements Argonne Forest being among the number. He entered World War II with the rank of Captain but later in Honolulu was again promoted to the rank of Major.

He was a Presbyterian by religious affiliation, a 32nd degree Mason and a Shriner.

The Florida Boys Ranch was an especial object of his philanthropic interest for which he established in 1967 the Dora W. Tomasello $20,000 Scholarship Fund to enable boys at the Ranch to attend college. This Fund was established with the stipulation that the money go to students having less than straight-A grades, his position being that those so fortunate as to have such grades could obtain scholarships on their own initiative and did not need such aid.

In 1925 Major first assumed the role of lobbyist which he pursued for the remainder of his life and it is with this activity in which he had no peer that he is most widely identified by countless persons who knew him in political circles. Some eight years later, in 1933, Major's youngest brother, handsome, debonair Peter Tomasello, Jr., now deceased, was Speaker of the House of Representatives. For the most part Major belonged to an era when the Legislature did not have the benefit of innumerable hard working Committees charged with the gathering of technical information for the enlightenment of members in Session assembled. He ever maintained a great respect for the membership of the Legislature to whom he always referred as being honest, hardworking and sincere. While to his activities in behalf of his clients, The Florida Truckers Association and other industrial interests, he ever lent the impact of his exceptionally engaging personality, before the membership of the Legislature his was much the role of the attorney before the court, one engaged in the presentation of facts and pertinent information which might otherwise have gone undiscovered, than that of a self-seeker who would distort the view in order to gain his own ends. He never sought to make "the worser appear the better reasoning".

So Major ever maintained the admiration, confidence and respect of those with whom he walked in like regard, the members of the Florida Legislature and his fellow lobbyists as well.

Major was a courteous, Christian gentleman whose generousities were not limited to the Florida Boys Ranch and many there be who would entertain the hope of another meeting at breakfast with Major in that land where he has gone, celestial hands performing the rite of picking up the tab.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this Concurrent Resolution duly attested be forwarded to Mrs. W. H. Freeman, Atlantic Beach, Mrs. Mamie Bovis, Kissimmee, Mr. Pevey Tomasello, Kissimmee, daughter, sister and brother, respectively, of Major, with the condolences of the membership of the Florida Legislature.
