Our most gracious Heavenly Father in whom all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge reside, we beseech thee at the beginning of this new day and the beginning of this Legislative session to illumine and guide these thy servants.

The future of our God-favored Florida rests upon their decision. So, we fervently beseech you to guide their every action, and may your hand of benediction rest upon them and all their families. May your favor be so great upon them that we all might say in unison?

Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name

Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven

Give us this day our daily bread:

And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.

And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil;

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I voted against SB 633 because the amendment placed thereon by the Senate effectively destroyed the original intent of the bill. Now as amended, the bill provides both that "continuing contract" will be one of the criteria to be followed in determining whether a teacher will be retained when there is a school consolidation and that "continuing contract" can be disregarded when this determination is being made.
