Prayer by The Rev. Lawrence F. Sthresley, Jr., Pastor, First Presbyterian Church, Fort Meade, Florida:

Our Father in Heaven, be gracious to thy servants, the members of this august body. Give to each one the strength for the tasks of this day and guide them in their labors. When the temptation comes to wonder if the ideal of righteousness and the peaceful solution of our hard problems are but an impossible dream, remind them that thou are not senile, nor asleep, nor ever defeated. Remind us all that a different world cannot be built by indifferent people. When the pressures of crisis weigh upon us, may we remember that thou art never in a hurry and will not be rushed by the deadlines of impatient men or by the violence of the wicked. Give us the grace to wait upon thee, for they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength. They shall mount with wings as the eagles. They shall run and not be weary. They shall walk and faint not. Grant these mercies to thy servants, we pray, in the name of Christ. Amen.

The President presiding.

On motion by Senator Johnson (29th), consideration of SB 92 was deferred.

On motion by Senator Ware, consideration of SB 210 was deferred and retained on second reading without dissent.

Senator Hollahan reported as follows for the special committee appointed to research the point of order raised by Senator Myers relative to SB 421:

The committee is of unanimous opinion the point was not well taken. In Article VI, Section 5, reference is made to special elections and referenda. The constitution is a limitation of power. It is silent in this particular area, thus certainly it would not deny the legislature power to provide for special elections and referenda of this character.

Pursuant thereto, the President ruled the point not well taken.

The President announced the appointment of Senators Lewis (43rd) and Ott as members of the Select Committee on Executive Suspensions to fill the vacancies occasioned by the resignations of Senators Bishop and Williams. An expression of thanks was extended by the President to the retiring Senators for invaluable service rendered.

PAIR

The following pair was announced by the Secretary in accordance with Senate Rule 5.4: I am paired with Senator Henderson on CS for SB 421. If he were present he would vote "Yes" and I would vote "No."

Senator Reuter, 30th District

Co-Introducers

By permission, Senators McClain, Daniel, Horne, Ware, Stolzenburg, Ducker and Hollahan were recorded as co-introducers of CS for SB 421.

Explanations of Votes

I voted against CS for SB 421 because it is based purely on political opportunism. Yes, the people are angry so it is more than convenient to vote in favor of CS for SB 421. Moreover, it is a fact that we all run for re-election soon. But, instead of addressing itself to question of why all Americans do not now have an equal chance for a decent education, it deludes the people into believing they can miraculously destroy busing by voting "yes" in a simple referendum election. Every Senator knows this is not possible. Hence, CS for SB 421 is a cruel hoax—instead of finding just solutions to a hard problem it panders to frustration and hate.

Edmond J. Gong, 40th District

Pursuant to Rule 5.5 the undersigned senators state and wish it to be understood that their votes against CS for SB 421 were simply votes against the bill and the proposition it proposes. Our votes should not be construed as an endorsement of forced busing to obtain racial balance because we are all against it.

It is to be noted that the United States Congress passed a law in 1968 expressly prohibiting busing to obtain racial balance and that the undersigned senators support that proposition and support the preservation of the neighborhood school.

The question propounded by said bill is whether our Republic is to have government by straw ballot. We rather think that our forefathers intended that such decisions be resolved in a representative government by those who are duly elected and have the responsibility for doing so. Only those questions that cannot be so resolved by a representative body should be submitted to referendum, such as an amendment to the Constitution.

Although it is politically popular to vote for CS for SB 421, it will be perpetrating a hoax on the public because their expression will not affect any law or court decision. The rights of individuals should not be relegated to a political ploy.

Jerry Thomas, 35th District
Philip D. Lewis, 33rd District
Frederick B. Karl, 14th District

The Committee on Governmental Efficiency offered the following amendment which was moved by Senator Daniel:

Amendment 1—On page 1, line 24, section 1, after Comma (,) insert: clearly designated as such,

On motion by Senator Horne, the following remarks by Senator Barron were ordered spread upon the pages of the Journal:

Mr. President, considering the vote on the engineering bill a few moments ago and the presence in the balcony of the Dean of the Law School, with the indulgence of the Senate just for a moment, may I speak on a point of personal privilege on something that's been giving me a great deal of concern?

President: The Senator from the 4th is recognized on a matter of privilege.

Senator Barron: In Florida we are frequently confounded, confused and concerned as to what we can do about problems of education. I know that the President of the Senate is, and that many members of the Senate are. I have discussed this with members of the Supreme Court of Florida, and they too have expressed a concern . . . they also don't know what to do, and this is what it is. When I went through law school you could get into the Law school on a particular score on the Law School Admission Test, with grades that were much lower than you can now be admitted with . . . otherwise I probably couldn't have entered, to tell you the truth. But today we have gotten to the position where the only people who can enter law school are the very highly intelligent, and to the exclusion of the people who really need help from the standpoint of the government. So the effect is, if you have a son that you want to go to law school today he must have a 3.0 average from college and a 600 score on the national law school admission test. Now what that means is that the people who are paying the bills can no longer get their children in. The reason I am making these remarks now is because of the vote on the engineering bill just awhile ago. Now, we have a bar examination in Florida that determines whether or not you will be licensed to practice law and 98% of all of the people who have gotten out of law school in the last ten years have passed this examination. So you see, the barrier that the law schools are putting on admissions are not for the protection of the public. If you happen to be from Harvard with a 4.0 and a 900 on the admission test, they will call you up and say come down here, because frequently the deans at the universities are more concerned with the overall average of their students that graduate (and the position that they make in the nation) as a dean than they are with trying to help those people who need to be helped. Now, government is designed to assist those who need help. Those people who are superior in intelligence . . . they are going to make it anyway. But the effect of this thing is now that although you have enough sense to get through law school and although I have a call from at least 10 people in my small county—doctors, lawyers, friends, automobile salesman, to try to help get his son in law school, he can't even be considered now, because of the high requirements. Had he applied 8 years ago or 5 years ago he could have gotten in law school. We have to find a way to solve this problem. It's not only in the law schools. I was talking to the teachers over in Blountstown at a meeting, and those teachers who want to go back to get their master's degree can't go back unless they make a thousand on some sort of a test. Although the people who make a lower score would make a better teacher if they went back and got their master's. So I want to say it here today, and I want to say it before the Board of Regents, and the Cabinet, and as many people as I can as long as I can, until we get some other criteria. Now if you happen to be of a minority group, of course, there are some waivers made but the middle class people of this state are not—the ones who are paying for the universities are not getting an even break on getting their children into those universities. Perhaps we could partially solve the problem by saying, for example, that 40% of them would be admitted based on scores alone and another 40% or 60% who pass a minimum requirement, their names could be drawn out of a hat. There is some way to solve it. The complexity of government is such that, for the life of me, I don't really know how to go about doing it. I want to bring it to your attention here for it is one of those things that everybody talks about but nobody seems to do anything about. I think the sister of the President of the Senate made a talk such as this before a committee once and said if they had such requirements back when the President went to college he wouldn't be here today . . . I am sure that's true about many of us. Intelligence alone is not the test. Drive, desire to excel are also important and the test should be such that if you have enough sense to be a lawyer and pass the bar there ought to be some way you can get into law school. Thank you very much.

On motion by Senator Haverfield, the rules were waived and the Committee on Universities and Community Colleges was granted permission to consider a committee bill on educational reorganization at the scheduled meeting February 10.

The hour of adjournment having arrived, a point of order was called and the Senate adjourned at 5:00 p.m. to convene at 8:30 a.m. for the purpose of introduction and reference of resolutions, memorials, bills and joint resolutions and thereafter to reconvene at 9:00 a.m., February 10, 1972.
