Conference Committee amendment 1:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert:

Section 1. Subsection (1) of section 775.081, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

775.081 Classifications of felonies and misdemeanors.—

(1) Felonies are classified, for the purpose of sentence and for any other purpose specifically provided by statute, into the following categories:

- (a) Capital felony;
- (b) Life felony;
- ~~(b)~~ (c) Felony of the first degree;
- ~~(c)~~ (d) Felony of the second degree; and
- ~~(d)~~ (e) Felony of the third degree.

A capital felony and a life felony must be so designated by statute. ~~A non-capital felony~~ Other felonies are of the particular degree designated by statute. Any crime declared by statute to be a felony without specification of degree is of the third degree, except that this provision shall not affect felonies punishable by life imprisonment for the first offense.

COMMENT: Provides a new category of felony to serve as an additional deterrent to those crimes, while not classified capital, are especially serious in nature.

Section 2. Section 775.082, Florida Statutes, as amended by chapter 72-118, Laws of Florida, is amended to read:

775.082 Penalties for felonies and misdemeanors.—

(1) A person who has been convicted of a capital felony shall be punished by life imprisonment and shall be required to serve no less than twenty-five (25) calendar years before becoming eligible for parole unless the proceeding held to determine sentence according to the procedure set forth in section 921.141 results in findings by the court that such person shall be punished by death, and in the latter event such person shall be punished by death, unless the verdict includes a recommendation to mercy by a majority of the jury, in which case the punishment shall be life imprisonment. A defendant found guilty by the court of a capital felony on a plea of guilty or when a jury is waived shall be sentenced to death or life imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

(2) In the event the death penalty in a capital felony is held to be unconstitutional by the Florida Supreme Court or the United States Supreme Court, a person who has been convicted of a capital felony shall be punished by life imprisonment as provided in subsection (1).

(3) In the event the death penalty in a capital felony is held to be unconstitutional by the Florida Supreme Court or the United States Supreme Court, the court having jurisdiction over a person previously sentenced to death for a capital felony shall cause such person to be brought before the court, and the court shall sentence such person to life imprisonment as provided in subsection (1) with no eligibility for parole.

(4) A person who has been convicted of any other designated felony may be punished as follows:

(a) For a life felony, by a term of imprisonment in the state prison for life, or for a term of years not less than thirty;

~~(a)~~ (b) For a felony of the first degree, by a term of imprisonment in the state prison ~~penitentiary~~ not exceeding thirty (30) years or, when specifically provided by statute, by imprisonment in the state prison ~~penitentiary~~ for a term of years not exceeding life imprisonment;

~~(b)~~ (c) For a felony of the second degree, by a term of imprisonment in the state prison ~~penitentiary~~ not exceeding fifteen (15) years;

~~(c)~~ (d) For a felony of the third degree, by a term of imprisonment in the state prison ~~penitentiary~~ not exceeding five (5) years.

(5) A person who has been convicted of a designated misdemeanor may be sentenced as follows:

(a) For a misdemeanor of the first degree, by a definite term of imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one (1) year;

(b) For a misdemeanor of the second degree, by a definite term of imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding sixty (60) days.

(6) Nothing in this section shall be construed to alter the operation of any statute of this state authorizing a trial court, in its discretion, to impose a sentence of imprisonment for an indeterminate period within minimum and maximum limits as provided by law, except as provided in subsection (1).

COMMENT: Subsection (1) provides two alternate sentences for capital crimes which will be mandatory according to the findings of fact made in a separate sentencing proceeding. A distinction between life imprisonment under subsection (1) and that contemplated under subsection (4)(a), relating to life felonies should be noted. In the former case, there is a minimum period to be served on a life sentence before eligibility for parole. In the latter, there is no such minimum but only a minimum term of years which must be imposed if life imprisonment is not the sentence. There is no minimum sentence for felonies of the first degree. Thus, each category contemplates a descending degree of severity according to the classification of the crime.

Section 3. Section 782.04, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

782.04 Murder.—

(1) (a) The unlawful killing of a human being, when perpetrated from a premeditated design to effect the death of the person killed or any human being, or when committed by a person engaged in the perpetration of or in the attempt to perpetrate any arson, rape, robbery, burglary, ~~abominable, and detestable crime against nature,~~ or kidnaping, aircraft piracy, or unlawful throwing, placing or discharging of a destructive device or bomb, or which resulted from the unlawful distribution of heroin by a person over the age of seventeen (17) years when such drug is proven to be the proximate cause of the death of the user shall be murder in the first degree and shall constitute a capital felony, punishable as provided in §775.082.

(b) In all cases under this section the procedure set forth in section 921.141 shall be followed in order to determine sentence of death or life imprisonment.

(2) When perpetrated by any act imminently dangerous to another, and evincing a depraved mind regardless of human life, although without any premeditated design to effect the death of any particular individual or when committed in the perpetration of or in the attempt to perpetrate any arson, rape, robbery, burglary, kidnaping, aircraft piracy, or unlawful throwing, placing or discharging of a destructive device or bomb, except as provided in subsection (1), it shall be murder in the second degree and shall constitute a felony of the first degree, punishable as provided in §775.082, §775.083, or §775.084, by imprisonment in the state prison for life, or for such term of years as may be determined by the court.

(3) When perpetrated without any design to effect death, by a person engaged in the commission of perpetration of or in the attempt to perpetrate any felony, other than arson, rape, robbery, burglary, the abominable and detestable crime against nature, or kidnaping, aircraft piracy, or unlawful throwing, placing or discharging of a destructive device or bomb, it shall be murder in the third degree and shall constitute a felony of the second degree, punishable as provided in section 775.082, section 775.083, or section 775.084.

Section 4. Section 779.07, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

779.07 Intentional injury to or interference with property.—Whoever intentionally destroys, impairs, injures, interferes or tampers with real or personal property and such act hinders, delays or interferes with the preparation of the United States or of any country with which the United States shall then maintain friendly relations, or of any of the states for defense or for war, or with the prosecution of war by the United States, is shall be guilty of a life capital felony, punishable as provided in §775.082.; provided, if such person so acts with the intent to hinder, delay or interfere with the preparation of the United States or of any country with which the United States shall then maintain friendly relations, or of any of the states for defense or for war, or with the prosecution of war by the United States, the minimum punishment shall be in the state prison for not less than one year.

Section 5. Section 790.16, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

790.16 Throwing bombs; discharging machine guns; penalty.—

(1) It is unlawful for any person to throw any bomb or to shoot or discharge any machine guns upon, across or along any road, street or highway in the state, or upon or across any public park in the state, or in, upon or across any public place where people are accustomed to assemble in the state. The casting of such bomb or the discharge of such machine gun in, upon or across such public street, or in, upon or across such public park, or in, upon or across such public place, whether indoors or outdoors, including all theatres and athletic stadiums, with intent to do bodily harm to any person or with intent to do damage to the property of any person, not resulting in the death of another person, shall be a capital felony of the first degree, punishable as provided in section 775.082. A sentence not exceeding life imprisonment is specifically authorized where great bodily harm to another or serious disruption of governmental operations results.

(2) This section shall not apply to the use of such bombs or machine guns by any United States or state militia, or by any sheriff, deputy sheriff, marshal, constable, chief of police or police law enforcement officer while in the discharge of their lawful duty in suppressing riots and disorderly conduct, and in preserving and protecting the public peace or in the preservation of public property, or where said use shall be authorized by law.

(3) A majority of the jurors trying said cause may in their discretion recommend the defendant to the mercy of the court in which event the penalty shall be changed from death to life imprisonment.

(4) The circuit judge before whom said cause shall be tried, should he deem the circumstances under which said offense was committed of such nature and character as to justify clemency, may, in his discretion, change the penalty from death to imprisonment in the penitentiary for life.

COMMENT: This provision provides rational alternatives in sentencing compatible with existing law, depending on the degree of harm done. It is intended that where a homicide results that such offense be prosecuted under section 782.04, F.S. Deletion of subsections (3) and (4) is required to remove jury discretion to recommend mercy and judicial discretion to lower the sentence. These provisions are unnecessary as the most serious offense under this section is now classified as a felony of the first degree, with specific authorization of a term of imprisonment not exceeding life imprisonment in certain cases.

Section 6. Section 790.161, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

790.161 Throwing, placing or discharging any destructive device or attempt so to do, felony; penalties.—It is unlawful for any person to throw, place, discharge or attempt to discharge any destructive device, as defined herein, with intent to do bodily harm to any person or with intent to do damage to the property of any person, and any person convicted thereof shall be guilty of a felony and punished in the following manner:

(1) When such action, or attempt at such action, results in the death of the person intended or any another person, the person so convicted shall be guilty of a capital life felony, punishable as provided in section 775.082.

(2) When such action, or attempt at such action, results not in the death of any person, but does result in personal injury to a person or in damage to the property of any person, the person so convicted shall be guilty of a felony of the first degree, punishable as provided in sections 775.082, 775.083 or 775.084. A sentence not exceeding life imprisonment is specifically authorized where great bodily harm to another or serious disruption of governmental operations results.

Section 7. Section 794.01, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

794.01 Rape and forcible carnal knowledge; penalty.—

(1) Whoever of the age of seventeen years or older unlawfully ravishes or carnally knows a child under the age of eleven, is guilty of a capital felony, punishable as provided in §775.082.

(2) Whoever ravishes or and carnally knows a person female of the age of eleven ten years or more, by force and against his or her will, or unlawfully and or carnally knows and abuses a female child under the age of eleven ten years, shall be guilty of a life capital felony, punishable as provided in §775.082.

(3) It shall not be necessary to prove the actual emission of seed, but the crime shall be deemed complete upon proof of penetration only.

Section 8. Section 805.02, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

805.02 Kidnaping for ransom.—Whoever, without lawful authority, forcibly or secretly confines, imprisons, inveigles or kidnaps any person, with intent to hold such person for a ransom to be paid for the release of such person, or any person, or any person who aids, abets or in any manner assists such person in the confining, imprisoning, inveigling or kidnapping of such person, shall be guilty of kidnapping a person, which constitutes a capital life felony, punishable as provided in section 775.082.

COMMENT: This section reduces kidnapping for ransom to a life felony, in accordance with the express general policy of taking a life only when a life is taken.

Section 9. Section 921.141, Florida Statutes, as amended by chapter 72-72, Laws of Florida, is amended to read:

(Substantial rewording of section. See section 921.141, F. S., as amended by chapter 72-72, Laws of Florida, for present text.)

921.141 Sentence of death or life imprisonment for capital felonies; further proceedings to determine sentence.—

(1) Upon conviction or adjudication of guilt of a defendant of a capital felony the court shall conduct a separate sentencing proceeding to determine whether the defendant should be sentenced to death or life imprisonment as authorized by section 775.082. The proceeding shall be conducted by the trial judge before the trial jury as soon as practicable. If the trial jury has been waived or if the defendant pleaded guilty, the sentencing proceeding shall be conducted before a jury empaneled for that purpose unless waived by the defendant. In the proceeding, evidence may be presented as to any matter that the court deems relevant to sentence, and shall include matters relating to any of the aggravating or mitigating circumstances enumerated in subsections (6) and (7) of this section. Any such evidence which the court deems to have probative value may be received, regardless of its admissibility under the exclusionary rules of evidence, provided that the defendant is accorded a fair opportunity to rebut any hearsay statements; and further provided that this subsection shall not be construed to authorize the introduction of any evidence secured in violation of the Constitution of the United States or of the State of Florida. The state and the defendant or his counsel shall be permitted to present argument for or against sentence of death.

(2) After hearing all the evidence, the jury shall deliberate and render an advisory sentence to the court based upon the following matters:

(a) Whether sufficient aggravating circumstances exist as enumerated in subsection (6), and

(b) Whether sufficient mitigating circumstances exist as enumerated in subsection (7), which outweigh aggravating circumstances found to exist, and

(c) Based on these considerations whether the defendant should be sentenced to life or death.

(3) Notwithstanding the recommendation of a majority of the jury, the court after weighing the aggravating and mitigating circumstances shall enter a sentence of life imprisonment or death, but if the court imposes a sentence of death, it shall set forth in writing its findings upon which the sentence of death is based as to the facts:

(a) That sufficient aggravating circumstances exist as enumerated in subsection (6), and

(b) That there are insufficient mitigating circumstances, as enumerated in subsection (7), to outweigh the aggravating circumstances.

In each case in which the court imposes the death sentence, the determination of the court shall be supported by specific written findings of fact based upon the circumstances in subsections (6) and (7) and based upon the records of the trial and the sentencing proceedings.

(4) If the court does not make the findings requiring the death sentence, the court shall impose sentence of life imprisonment in accordance with section 775.082.

(5) The judgment of conviction and sentence of death shall be subject to automatic review by the Supreme Court of Florida within sixty (60) days after certification by the sentencing court of the entire record unless time is extended an additional period not to exceed thirty (30) days by the Supreme Court for good cause shown. Such review by the Supreme Court shall have priority over all other cases, and shall be heard in accordance with rules promulgated by the Supreme Court.

(6) Aggravating circumstances.—Aggravating circumstances shall be limited to the following:

(a) The capital felony was committed by a person under sentence of imprisonment;

(b) The defendant was previously convicted of another capital felony or of a felony involving the use or threat of violence to the person;

(c) The defendant knowingly created a great risk of death to many persons;

(d) The capital felony was committed while the defendant was engaged or was an accomplice in the commission of, or an attempt to commit, or flight after committing or attempting to commit any robbery, rape, arson, burglary, kidnaping, aircraft piracy, or the unlawful throwing, placing or discharging of a destructive device or bomb;

(e) The capital felony was committed for the purpose of avoiding or preventing a lawful arrest or effecting an escape from custody;

(f) The capital felony was committed for pecuniary gain;

(g) The capital felony was committed to disrupt or hinder the lawful exercise of any governmental function or the enforcement of laws.

(h) The capital felony was especially heinous, atrocious or cruel.

(7) Mitigating circumstances.—Mitigating circumstances shall be the following:

(a) The defendant has no significant history of prior criminal activity;

(b) The capital felony was committed while the defendant was under the influence of extreme mental or emotional disturbance;

(c) The victim was a participant in the defendant's conduct or consented to the act;

(d) The defendant was an accomplice in the capital felony committed by another person and his participation was relatively minor;

(e) The defendant acted under extreme duress or under the substantial domination of another person;

(f) The capacity of the defendant to appreciate the criminality of his conduct or to conform his conduct to the requirements of law was substantially impaired;

(g) The age of the defendant at the time of the crime.

Section 10, It is declared to be the legislative intent that if any section, subsection, paragraph, sentence, clause, provision or word of this act is held to be invalid, the remainder of the act shall not be affected.

Section 11. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

Explanation of Vote

I am voting yea because of the necessity to reinstate capital punishment in Florida. I have many reservations as to the constitutionality as well as the content of many sections. However, the special session did not allow the necessary time for open hearings, nor careful consideration that a bill of this magnitude deserves. Rather than have no bill at all—I support this compromise.
