Prayer by Dr. C. Earl Cooper, Pastor, Riverside Baptist Church, Jacksonville:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we thank thee for life and the privilege of the pursuit of happiness. We thank thee for hope for the future, faith for now, and love of thee, from thee, for one another.

When our country, our land, suffers loss, may we continuously seek its gain; when any member is in bondage, may we struggle for his freedom; if any abide in darkness, may we light a torch; if any lack justice, may we endeavor for the right; if any fall, may we lift him; if any be burdened, may we get under the load.

However, whenever, in what manner, may we, O, God, truly be thy children, seeking thy will, thy way, thy truth, thy goodness, thy mercy, thy peace, thy power, thy self. Amen.

The Senate pledged allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

On motion by Senator Henderson, the rules were waived and SB 453 after being engrossed was ordered immediately certified to the House.

The Senate resumed consideration of CS for SB 233 and on motion by Senator Barron, further consideration of CS for SB 233 was deferred.

On motion by Senator Trask, the rules were waived by unanimous consent and the Senate reverted to Introduction for the purpose of introducing the following concurrent resolution out of order:

INTRODUCTION

By Senator Trask—

SCR 1340—A concurrent resolution proclaiming May 26, 1980, as a day of statewide prayer.

—was read the first time in full. On motions by Senator Trask, by two-thirds vote SCR 1340 was placed next on the special order calendar and by two-thirds vote read the second time by title.

Further consideration of SCR 1340 was deferred at 10:30 a.m. because of a special program which had been scheduled for that hour.

Recognition of President and President Pro Tempore

Senator Barron assumed the chair and presided over a special program recognizing the President and President Pro Tempore and their wives.

Senator W. D. Childers introduced "The Brown Boys" of Pensacola stating they were successful businessmen who enjoyed entertaining, and that this was really a re-introduction since they had entertained the Senate previously. The group entertained the Senate and guests with several selections of country music. During the program they were joined by Joe Bizzaro, a member of the Capital Press Corps, who sang his rendition of "The W. D. Childers Song."

Senator Barron introduced the family of the President: Maryellen, his wife; Dan, Casey and Neil, sons; Paulette, daughter; Robert Critton, Paulette's fiancée; Earl and Phyllis Quattlebaun, brother-in-law and sister-in-law, and their sons, Greg, Guy and Gerald, and the family and friends of President Pro Tempore Scarborough: Virginia, his wife; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scarborough, his parents; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Green, son-in-law and daughter; Lynn Scarborough, daughter; Christopher Scarborough, grandson (son of Mr. and Mrs. John Scarborough who were unable to attend); Mr. and Mrs. Alan McCorkle, close friends of Senator Scarborough and Mrs. Scarborough.

At the invitation of Senator Barron, Senator Johnston came to the rostrum and presented gifts, paid for by the members of the Senate, to President and Mrs. Lewis and President Pro Tempore and Mrs. Scarborough. The gifts included gold medallions engraved with an image of the old capitol to Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Scarborough; an electric trolling motor to President Pro Tempore Scarborough and a young Rottweiler dog to President Lewis.

Following the presentation of gifts the official portrait of President Lewis, to be hung in the Senate Chamber, was unveiled and presented to the Senate.

The President presiding

On motion by Senator Dunn, remarks by President Lewis, and some other members of the Senate were printed in the Journal as follows:

Senator Barron: It's always difficult to say really nice things about people in their presence, but I think after serving twenty-two years in the Florida Legislature I've never seen a finer or more dedicated, sincere, conscientious President of the Senate. He's everything you could hope for and he was exactly what we needed.

He is like Will Rogers who said he'd never met a man he didn't like. In a book called Blood on the Moon, about the Tennessee Valley Authority taking the farm of an old lady, the old lady's grandson came home from the war, and she gave him this advice—to find someone to love and someone to hate, and go about doing both of them. Phil Lewis would take half of that advice. He loves every member of the Senate. He has compassion for every person in the world.

I think he likes me better than any other member of the Senate. Seriously, and I know that each of you feels he's more concerned about each of you than any other member of the Senate, because it's true.

Phil has great ability to be concerned. He's concerned about you. He's concerned about our state and concerned about the country.

Some people say that Phil is not tough enough because he does not come down hard on the members of the Senate relative to the passage of particular legislation. If you think he's not tough enough, try to pass some additional taxes. I know how tough he is there. I know how he held against the sales tax in the absence of Senator Gordon, who was also trying to make a contribution from his home when he was ill.

I know how Phil Lewis is a peacemaker. I've never seen more agreement in the Florida Senate nor in the Florida House when I served there.

He'll soon be going back to his home where he justly deserves to go and we will miss him here. But even though he leaves this Chamber, he will be with us anytime we need him.

Phil, I am proud to have served while you served in the Senate.

Senator Henderson: Senator Barron, you took all good things I could think of to say about the President. I served with him for ten years and I didn't notice a lot of that compassion as you did. In fact, I added up my bills last year and they were assigned to 2.74 committees per bill. That was the compassion!

Senator Lewis taught us a lot of things and we should be proud of the things he's taught us. He taught me if you chew tobacco you'll get sick to your stomach. I learned that the first year he sat back here with me. He taught me how to chew cigars next, and by mistake I lit one one time, and I smoked them for five years. During that five years he said, "I'm not sitting here another day with those stinking cigars of yours; I'm going to run for Senate presidency just to get away from these two seats back here." And he did that; left me without a seatmate.

Now he's got one thing planned for us that will ultimately save us more money than anything he's ever done. He's got a fellow named Lewis who is going to run for that seat and we won't even have to change the sign in the Senate when he comes to sit by me.

That's a plug for one of our guys.

Senator Winn: I rise with mixed emotions to talk about my dear friend, Phil Lewis. Phil came over in 1972 and I've learned a great deal this past year and a half about Phil Lewis. Number one, when an individual has a loss in his family, Phil is always there to help you along. He certainly did that for me, and I'll never forget him for that.

The other day I asked for a meeting with the President and he obliged me and gave me an appointment and that was a lot more than his predecessor ever did. I was privileged to get this appointment and I asked him a question and President Lewis answered me. He said "Sherman (mumble—mumble)."

I have such a great love for this man that I agreed with him. I was satisfied.

Maryellen, I don't know how you understood him all these years. Maybe she didn't and maybe that's why they have nine children.

Phil Lewis, may God bless you and your family wherever you go. It's been an honor and a pleasure to be part of Phil Lewis.

Senator Myers: Mr. President, I was asked to say something funny, but you know when you really stop to think about it there's nothing funny about Phil Lewis.

I believe that in one of his more quiet and retrospective moments he would admit to the entire Senate that I've taught him everything he knows sitting back here.

Phil, everyone has said how they enjoyed serving with you. What a great privilege it's been for me. I'm sure that every single one of us can say you are one of the finest men we've ever met.

Under Phil's term none of us has heard a discouraging word. As a matter of fact he's always been optimistic about everything. His greatest line is, "Don't worry about it—it'll all work out in the end—just sit back, cool it, relax."

Phil, you'll always be remembered for your great leadership, and I'm happy, more than happy, and privileged, as part of my sixteen years here, to have been a part of it.

Senator Ware: Ten years ago Phil and I came to the Senate for the first time and over those ten years Phil advanced from a freshman Senator to the chairman of the major committees of the Senate, and finally to the presidency of the Senate.

As you may recall, Phil didn't seek the office, the office sought Phil.

I recall his saying, "If elected I may not serve." Of course some of us feel that you fulfilled that promise—as well as your other promises.

Seriously, Phil, on behalf of the Republican members of the Senate, we are proud to have worked with you and to support your programs. We feel that your philosophy was important to the State of Florida at a crucial time. I understand that you are not going to seek re-election and we want you to know we'll miss you. You've been a great Senator and a tremendous asset to the State of Florida.

Mr. President: I don't have to explain to my colleagues here that I'm not a great debater, or a person with a lot of words like Senator Barron and some of our other illustrious orators.

I can genuinely say that I deeply appreciate your kind words.

I also want to mention just a few people and items.

One of the great people in the process, this whole process—and many of you probably don't appreciate him—is Howard Walton. He is a person who holds the tradition of the legislature and the Senate together.

Yes, he's tough and yes, he's demanding on staff and everyone else but there is no one more loyal and dedicated to this whole operation than Howard Walton.

Once in awhile Howard even suggests to the President that he may not be completely accurate. The other day I said, "Walton, that picture is going to be ready one of these days and when that thing comes, I don't want any of that unveiling stuff, just hang the picture up there and none of this unveiling." He just straightened up and walked off.

I want to thank Maryellen and the children who have patiently sat here; Paulette and her fiancé, Bob Critton, Earl and Phyllis. All of you have put up with my absences for ten years.

I appreciate it very much personally, and I know that what little contribution I've ever made to the State of Florida couldn't have been made without each and every one of you. So you're as much a part of this ceremony today, and whatever I contributed, as I am and I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart.

Senator Scarborough, you and Virginia, I want to thank you for your support and help during this past year. You've been everything anybody could ever want in a President Pro Tempore—a friend, and a Senator. I've enjoyed our relationship very much. And you are a hell of a guy as far as I'm concerned.

Senators, as I said before, Mickey Mouse could have run this with the cooperation we have had. I just hope you continue to cooperate.

It's the last 30 days that count. It will be a tough 30 days. Remember all those good things you said because we're going to have some "bellying up" to do before it's all over.

I also want to say that all of our staff, Howard, Mary Peters, and Betty—all of you have been very, very helpful. We are very fortunate to have the Senate staff we have, not only in the President's office, but throughout the whole Senate. They help us as well as the people of the state, and we never give them enough credit. But we deeply appreciate it. I can't say that more sincerely. I genuinely appreciate them not only as professionals, but as persons and individuals that I've gotten to know.

We've had absolutely excellent cooperation from the Speaker of the House, and I hope he continues that way in the next thirty days.

Believe it or not, I would like to take this opportunity, although from time to time we've had disagreements, to thank and pay tribute to the press.

When I came here ten years ago Jerry Thomas told me the Florida press corps was ranked number one in the country. I've seen nothing to change that.

We are proud of the job you do. We don't agree with you all of the time and we don't expect you to agree with us, but I've enjoyed my relationship with the press over the past ten years although some of the time you were wrong. That's all right.

All in all Senators, I appreciate this opportunity to be with you. I can't say anything about all the individuals I would like to without getting all sloppy, so I won't do it. They all know what I'm talking about. So read the next bill.

On motion by Senator W. D. Childers, the rules were waived and the Senate reverted to—

MESSAGES FROM THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

SB 568—A bill to be entitled An act relating to taxation; adding subsection (4) to s. 199.072, Florida Statutes, and subsection (4) to s. 201.23, Florida Statutes, to exempt international financing transactions from intangible tax and excise tax on documents; amending s. 199.112, Florida Statutes; providing that all bills, notes or accounts receivable, obligations, or credits, wheresoever situated, arising out of, or issued in connection with, the sale of services are subject to such tax; providing that sales of services are in this state if the service is rendered in this state; adding subsections (9), (10), and (11) to s. 199.023, Florida Statutes; providing definitions; adding a new subsection (8) to s. 199.052, Florida Statutes; requiring certification of certain intangible personal property; providing an effective date.

Senators Myers, McKnight and Jenne offered the following amendment which was moved by Senator Myers and adopted by two-thirds vote:

Amendment 5 (to engrossed bill)—On page 2, strike lines 16-31, all of page 3, all of page 4 and insert:

Section 2. Subsections (9), (10), and (11) are added to section 199.023, Florida Statutes, to read:

199.023 Definitions.—The following terms and phrases when used in this chapter shall have the meaning ascribed to them in this section, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning:

(9) "Banking organization" means:

(a) A bank organized and existing under the laws of this state;

(b) A national bank organized and existing as a national banking association pursuant to the provisions of the National Bank Act (12 U.S.C. s. 21 et seq.) and maintaining its principal office in this state;

(c) An Edge Act Corporation organized pursuant to the provisions of s. 25(a) of the Federal Reserve Act (12 U.S.C. s. 611 et seq.) and maintaining an office in this state;

(d) An international bank agency licensed pursuant to the laws of this state; or

(e) A federal agency licensed pursuant to Sections 4 and 5 of the International Banking Act of 1978 to maintain an office in this state.

(10) "International banking transaction" means the financing of:

(a) The exportation from or the importation into the United States or between jurisdictions abroad of tangible personal property or services;

(b) The production, preparation, storage, or transportation of tangible personal property or services which are identifiable as being directly for export from or import into the United States or between jurisdictions abroad; or

(c) Contracts, projects, or activities to be performed substantially abroad.

(11) "Abroad" means in one or more foreign nations, the colonies, dependencies, possessions or territories thereof or of the United States or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

Section 3. Subsections (8) and (9) of section 199.052, Florida Statutes, are renumbered as subsections (9) and (10), respectively, and a new subsection (8) is added to said section to read:

199.052 Returns.—

(8) Every banking organization otherwise required to file a return under this chapter shall certify to the department the character, description, location and just valuation by category of all intangible personal property issued in or arising out of international banking transactions and owned by such banking organization.

Section 4. Subsection (4) is added to section 199.072, Florida Statutes, to read:

199.072 Exemptions.—

(4) All intangible personal property issued in or arising out of any international banking transaction and owned by a banking organization shall be exempt from the tax imposed by s. 199.032(1).

Section 5. Subsection (4) is added to section 201.23, Florida Statutes, to read:

201.23 Foreign notes and other written obligations exempt.—

(4) The excise taxes imposed by this chapter shall not apply to the documents, notes, evidences of indebtedness, financing statements, drafts, bills of exchange or other taxable items dealt with, made, issued, drawn upon, accepted, delivered, shipped, received, signed, executed, assigned, transferred or sold by or to a banking organization as defined in s. 199.023(9), in the conduct of an international banking transaction, as defined in s. 199.023(10). Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to change the application of subsection (2).

Section 6. This act shall take effect October 1, 1980.

Senator Myers moved the following amendments which were adopted by two-thirds vote:

Amendment 6—On page 1, strike lines 23 through 31 and on page 2, lines 1 through 15 and insert:

Section 1. Section 199.112, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

199.112 Business situs.—(1) All bills, notes or accounts receivable, obligations, or credits, wheresoever situated, arising out of, or issued in connection with, the sale, leasing, or servicing of real or personal property in the state are subject to taxation under this chapter, it being the legislative intent to provide that such intangibles shall be assessable regardless of where they are kept, approved as to their creation, or paid. This provision shall apply to any person representing business interests in the state that may claim a domicile elsewhere, the intent being further that no nonresident, either by himself or through an agent, shall transact business in the state without paying the same tax which the state would impose on residents transacting the same business. Sales of tangible personal property are in this state if the property is delivered or shipped to a purchaser within this state, regardless of the f.o.b. point or other conditions of the sale. The provisions of this section shall in no way be construed to alter the tax status of intangibles not connected with the sale, leasing, or servicing of real or personal property in the state.

(2) All bills, notes or accounts receivable, obligations or credits wheresoever situated, arising out of, or issued in connection with the sale of services in this state by any person representing business interests in this state that may claim domicile elsewhere are subject to taxation under this chapter and such intangibles shall be assessable regardless of where they are kept, approved as to their creation or paid.

Amendment 7—On page 1, line 5, strike "financing" and insert: "banking"

On motion by Senator Myers, SB 568 as amended was read by title, passed, ordered engrossed and then certified to the House. The vote on passage was:
