

Journal of the Senate

Gracious Heavenly Father, we honor thy precious name this morning as we gather together here in our work. Father, keep us from anger; let us work in friendship and harmony; let us work in understanding trying to get along with each other; let us not respond to pressures that we should not respond to but be strong in our faith in you and the people of Florida in the fact that we can do the right things for them. We ask all this in thy name. Amen.

Senator Vogt led the Senate in the pledge of allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

On motion by Senator Margolis that a committee be appointed to notify the House of Representatives that the Senate was convened and ready to proceed with the business of the session, the President appointed Senators Margolis, Lewis, Jennings and Langley. The committee was excused.

A committee from the House of Representatives composed of Representatives Moffitt, Thompson and Hollingsworth was received and informed the Senate that the House of Representatives was convened and ready to proceed to the business of the session. The committee then withdrew from the chamber.

MESSAGES FROM THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

The Honorable W. D. Childers, President

I am directed to inform the Senate that the House of Representatives has adopted HCR 1-Org. and requests the concurrence of the Senate.

Senator Barron moved that a committee be appointed to escort former Senator Kenneth H. "Buddy" MacKay to the rostrum. The motion was adopted and the President appointed Senators Barron, Kirkpatrick and Skinner.

Following remarks by Mr. Stiles, the President, on behalf of the St. Petersburg Times and those legislative correspondents and newspaper editors who participated in the poll, presented Senator MacKay with a plaque symbolizing his selection as the "Most Valuable Member" of the 1980 Senate.

Mr. Stiles stated that this was the twenty-third presentation of the award and the seventh time that Senator MacKay had been the recipient.

Senator MacKay addressed the Senate briefly.

Anne MacKay, wife of Senator MacKay, was presented to the Senate by the President.

Senator Barron moved that upon dissolution of the joint session, the Senate recess to reconvene at 2:00 p.m. The motion was adopted.

The Governor's Address

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice and Members of the Supreme Court, Mr. Lieutenant Governor, Members of the Cabinet, Members of the Senate and the House of Representatives, Citizens of Florida.

*On April 12, 1980—the first refugees from the Mariel Boatlifts reached Florida shores. In the coming months 140,000 Cuban and Haitian Refugees will arrive and settle in our State.

*May 9, 1980—the “Summit Venture” strikes the southern span of the Sunshine Skyway Bridge, killing 35.

*May 17, 1980—riot breaks out in Miami, raging for three days. Eighteen people are killed, $100 million in damage results.

*January 1, 1981—census figures reveal that Florida not only is the nation's fastest-growing State, but also has 10 of the 25 fastest-growing metropolitan areas in the country, including Ft. Myers-Cape Coral, ranked number one.

*February 3, 1981—the second of two major freezes hits the State, causing over $572 million in economic losses. Federal emergency economic aid is denied to the State.

The past twelve months have at times been very rewarding.

*August 25, 1980—schools reopen across Florida, with 21 of 42 schools previously on double-sessions resuming a single-session schedule.

*October 7, 1980—the people of Florida adopt major constitutional changes under the “Five for Florida's Future” program. These measures will increase economic development, encourage energy conservation, and promote affordable housing.

*January 5, 1981—the State Energy Office announces that Floridians reduced their gasoline consumption the previous year by 10.8%.

*February 18, 1981—employment figures revealed that 24.7% of all jobs created in the nation during 1980 were created here in Florida.

Each of these crises—each of these accomplishments—had the force to draw away all our attention.

We did respond to these challenges. The people of Florida have demonstrated their strength and commitment.

But we cannot allow crises or accomplishments to direct us from Florida's primary goals. It is against these goals that we as state leaders, and this generation of Floridians will be judged.

What are these goals?

*Providing an expanding economy and the institutions necessary to support it.

*Preservation of a quality of life and a state of natural beauty unexcelled on this planet.

*The chance for every Floridian to reach full potential through a quality educational system and human services which emphasize individual respect and independence.

*The provision of justice, security, and safety under law.

We embark on this 1981 Legislative Session in a time of uncertainty as to Federal Government policy.

We cannot allow this uncertainty to be an excuse for our inaction.

Much of what is being proposed in Washington echoes what we have accomplished in Florida.

A firm commitment to reducing inflation through Government action.

A renewed commitment to the free enterprise system.

A willingness to sacrifice for the Nation's defense—whether against a foreign aggressor nation or a local hoodlum.

The compassion to assure that no truly needy Floridian is denied the necessities of life.

With the leadership of House Speaker Ralph Haben, Senate President W. D. Childers and Florida's outstanding Cabinet, the Judiciary and the Lt. Governor—and the commitment of every Senator and Representative—our efforts can help our state not just to respond to new developments—but to step forward assuredly to meet the challenges we have set ourselves.

Transportation

One challenge that will most surely test our resolve as leaders is that of providing adequate transportation to all the people of Florida.

We are in a time of sharply rising energy costs, and explosive commercial and population growth. At the same time, many of our most important highways lie incomplete or unstarted, while those in service are beaten into disrepair. Public transit that so many Floridians depend on is suffering cutbacks.

Transportation is vital to our state's health, yet the debate over what to do about it is just opening.

We must remember one thing in the give and take of the Legislative process: The solutions to our transportation dilemmas are flexible, the problem is not.

Today we are still awaiting construction of the Port Everglades Expressway.

Broward County desperately needs this major artery—but it represents only 4.2 of the 310 miles of our interstate system that lie unfinished.

A bridge on State Road 767 over Jug Creek in Lee County will be replaced at a cost of $1 million.

But it is only one of 1500 bridges in our State that require immediate attention.

Jackson County currently requires nearly $3.5 million to repair segments of the County's rural roads. But these are just a few of the 3300 miles of State roads urgently requiring repair.

The Dale Mabry Highway is one of Hillsborough County's major North-South roads. It desperately needs additional lanes to relieve congestion at its Southern end—but this represents only 3½ of more than 2600 miles of road that just cannot handle the level of traffic they now carry.

Ellyson Field in Escambia County is approaching the stage where it can become an industrial park. The project will require substantial development and improvement of its road network to attract industries—but this represents only $1.4 million of the $42 million in similar requests across the State.

In Dade County transit fares have risen 50% in only four months, and even so, the system will have to be cut by one-third.

This is only 1 of our State's 24 transit systems. Systems that serve many of our working people, our elderly, our tourists, and many others—but are on very shaky ground.

We cannot ignore this catalogue of dire need. Of all the options before us, the least acceptable is to do nothing. We have advanced comprehensive proposals to remedy the situation.

These proposals are based on four principles:

*An adequate and reliable source of revenue must be provided to our transportation system. That requires an additional $300 million per year in State funds for interstate completion, State maintenance projects and local transportation needs.

*Transportation should be financed by those who use the system—those who use it the most should pay the most.

*All who use our roads and highways—including our tourists and inter-state commercial vehicles—should contribute.

*The burden on the Florida motorist should be minimized. In 1982 our program would cost the typical motorist driving 12,000 miles a year an additional $10-$15.

We cannot delay—our citizens require action.

If we fail, our efforts to meet the challenges of economic opportunity will be severely hampered.

Economic Development

From a burgeoning work-force and the need for consistent, long-term vitality, we face a challenge to widen our State's economic base and expand jobs and business opportunities.

The economic state of our State is very good.

Since I spoke with you last year, in the manufacturing sector alone we have brought in 62 new businesses and $1 billion in new investment, and created almost 20,000 manufacturing jobs. Total employment this January was 189,300 jobs higher than only a year ago.

Tourism expenditures last year grew by 7% to over $17 billion, due largely to a 40% increase in the number of foreign tourists. International trade grew by $4 billion in 1980 alone.

Fueled by this economic boom, Florida State revenues have grown by over $540 million.

This growth enables us to continue those programs of proven efficiency and effectiveness, and make an additional investment of over a billion dollars in education, programs for the elderly, and law enforcement.

We have done well. We must now work to do better.

We must double the Department of Commerce's ability to attract tourism and business to our State, through the pursuit of target industries, and the highly successful program of advertising.

We must expand our commitment to vocational education and specific industry manpower training.

One of our greatest opportunities is in high technology industry—an industry seeking the natural qualities Florida possesses, and the institutions we can create.

We must provide continuing education for the engineers, scientists and managers we seek to attract.

We must also initiate an educational outreach network for Florida industry as we have done so successfully through the Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences for Florida agriculture.

Strong communities are an essential element of a strong economy. Two of the first accomplishments of 1980 were the creation of the Florida Housing Finance Agency and the provision of incentives for community revitalization.

These initiatives deserve our continued support.

Environment

From growth and urbanization, we face a challenge to the preservation of our scenic beauty, our natural resources, and our traditional way of life.

Our environment epitomizes what people are seeking. We must ensure that it remains that way.

In recent years, we have been highly successful in meeting the demands of growth, while ensuring that economic growth and environmental integrity serve as partners in promoting the quality of life.

No State in the past decade has been more creative and more committed in protecting its land, water and air than has Florida.

Challenges remain before us, however.

In the months ahead, we must act to ensure that Florida's future remains as promising as Florida's present.

We must adequately fund the environmental agencies charged with administering those programs already enacted such as last year's controls on hazardous waste.

This year's major new challenge is the protection of the soil that cradles and purifies our water.

To meet this challenge, we must enact the most natural and the most cost-effective method of preserving our water supply: The purchase of wetlands, floodplains, and water recharge areas.

Additional development, which necessitates added water protection, will bear the slight costs of instituting this program.

It will ensure that the rivers of Florida continue to run, and continue to run pure.

Human Development

From the demands we set upon ourselves as a vibrant and compassionate society, we face a challenge not just to solve current problems, but to shape an even brighter future.

The key to meeting this challenge can be found in the most valuable resource any State can have: Its people.

Florida's future is to be found at its best, not in our natural resources, economic prowess, or government programs—but in its future leaders, workers, and citizens. We must take special care to nurture our greatest hope for Florida's future—our young people.

The signs are that we're doing well.

As a statement of our commitment to the future, and as a standard by which to judge our progress, Florida has set a goal of reaching the top quartile in the nation by 1985, in both student performance and resources committed to education.

We will do even more to improve the education that prepares young Floridians for the future. We will raise the level of State per-pupil expenditures, and further increase our salary support for teachers and professors.

We will continue to reduce the pupil-teacher ratio in kindergarten-through-third grade programs.

We must broaden the opportunities available to young minds through improved high school literacy programs. And we must work to strengthen our entire system of higher education, including the vital community college link between secondary schools and the upper university divisions.

Fundamental to this future progress is an enhanced state commitment to education.

In our public schools, we recommend that state support be increased from the current 65% to 70% in 1982. This will bring us closer to equal educational opportunity and relieve property taxpayers of a $120 million burden.

But we must also help those who shaped our past, and those who need us now.

While we will continue to require the highest standards in nursing home care, we must further the significant strides we have made in bringing community care to the elderly.

In this coming year alone, we will provide Community-based service for 26,000 senior Floridians to ensure that those who deserve and hold a special place in our hearts, are not denied a place in our midsts.

Law Enforcement

The central and foremost duty of Government is the protection of its citizens, the preservation of order, the maintenance of justice. This is now our greatest challenge.

We will never turn Florida over to the mobsters, drug smugglers, and thugs who would destroy the great state we have worked hard to build.

We will fight back with every resource at our disposal.

We will battle this enemy on every front.

And we will win.

Florida has faced crime waves before—and has faced them down. We are in a time of great challenge.

Stability in our communities requires balance in our law enforcement.

If the most fundamental deterrence to criminal acts is to be effective, the potential criminal must realize that he will be detected, arrested, swiftly prosecuted, and punished.

It is also fundamental that every citizen shall be accorded equal rights under the law. A system of justice which knows no race or color—creed or social position—is essential to the citizens respect and obedience of the law.

We must address all areas of our Justice system with equal concern. We must move forward at all levels—Federal, State and Local.

We must also remember one thing: The people of Florida cannot accept "business as usual". We cannot tolerate approaches that delay solution of our problems.

The need for action is urgent.

The seriousness of our problem compels answers. We must be prepared to answer now.

The broad range of problems we must confront—and the urgency of confronting them—can be illustrated by the case of one man—Thomas Otis Knight, who now sits on death row at Florida State Prison.

In 1960, Thomas Knight was caught stealing U.S. Treasury checks, and later, a bicycle. He was nine years old.

In October, 1964, Knight was arrested once more for shoplifting. Just two months later, he was caught breaking and entering. He was given 5 years probation.

On June 15, 1974, Thomas Knight was arrested for Grand Larceny. He was released pending trial.

Thirty-two days later, July 17, 1974, Knight kidnapped and murdered Sydney and Lillian Gans of Miami.

Two months later, Knight escaped from a local jail with 10 other prisoners. For the next 3½ months he roamed the Southeast. He has been indicted in Georgia for an armed robbery and murder during that period.

He was finally recaptured on New Year's Eve 1974, tried, and on April 21, 1975, sentenced to death. While on death row, on October 12, 1980 he stabbed and killed Richard Burke, a corrections officer on duty.

The State Supreme Court unanimously upheld his death sentence. The Clemency Board reviewed the case and I signed his death warrant.

But his case is now under a federal stay of execution, awaiting further hearings in Court. It has been 2,456 days since the first murders.

The case of Thomas Knight points to much of what we must remedy.

Juveniles who are a threat to the community cannot be detained for the protection of both themselves and law abiding citizens.

Some dangerous accused criminals need not even escape like Knight. Under our Constitution, we must often release accused offenders—no matter how dangerous—if they can establish only that they will appear for trial.

One of the chief means for proving this has been by pointing proudly to one's attendance record at previous dangerous felony trials.

It is a mockery of justice that such individuals of proven danger can be released to commit further, more serious offenses.

Local jails are inadequate to contain the growing and increasingly dangerous criminal population.

Staffing is insufficient to provide needed security and safety for the Corrections Officers.

Meanwhile, endless delays in the Federal Judicial process make a final rendering of justice almost impossible.

This provides just a sampling of our challenges. One thing is clear: We must address these challenges in every aspect of our Justice System, at every level of Government.

And we must do so now.

At the Federal level, we must tackle big-time crime—mobsters and drug traffickers—we must speed the determination of justice in the courts, and we must develop and stand by Immigration laws that keep the criminal element out.

The Federal Government must increase funding and staffing to combat lawlessness in Florida—particularly the drug trade.

Despite a Federal hiring freeze and cut-backs, we cannot allow the Federal Government to cut into areas in which Florida is already underserved.

The most effective place to turn off the drug trade is at its source. The Federal Government must reinstitute its herbicide spraying program and commence cooperative drug eradication in countries like Colombia and Jamaica.

Drug trafficking affects the entire nation. It is time for the nation to help Florida fight at the nation's front-line.

Moreover, we will push for revision of Federal law, to allow evidence of drug shipments discovered by the military to be shared with Florida Law Enforcement Officials.

In capital cases appeals drag on for years. And the enforcement of laws and sanctions becomes a mockery. We have advocated reforms in the Federal Judicial process to encourage the timely consideration of capital cases. The Federal District Courts in our State are beginning to constructively address this issue.

The Congress and the President must act to finally resolve these serious roadblocks to justice.

The need for swift and sure punishment is central to our dispensation of justice in all cases.

Federal Immigration Policy

It is also time for the Federal Government to take responsibility for its immigration decisions.

Our State has long benefitted from the many people who have come, as refugees from their native lands, seeking a better life.

This past year, however, known criminals from other countries were let into Florida. These criminals are a blot on the honor of the thousands who have come here and made Florida greater. They are a danger to all who have chosen lawfully to live here. Florida cannot become the refuse heap for either a foreign government or half-finished federal policies.

There is no better place for showing we mean business, than our own naval base at Guantanamo. Castro must take back those who belong behind his jail's doors, even if we must push them through our base's gates.

Like many challenges we face in Florida—such as providing for our State's transportation needs—there are no easy national solutions to the disposition of the criminal refugee.

Action begins by recognizing that toleration of the status quo is the least acceptable option.

The troubles with the Federal Government's handling of Caribbean refugees are so diverse and so continual that they could almost be called a comedy of errors—if their results weren't so calamitous.

I wish to commend Florida Senator Lawton Chiles for the leadership which he is now exhibiting in the United States Congress to provide the effective immigration law which this country has so long needed.

I am asking Speaker Haben and President Childers to select a delegation to travel with me to Washington, to personally ensure that the Federal Government recognizes its responsibility to act on this issue.

As leaders in State Government, we have a special responsibility to ensure that our State provides adequate protection under the law.

In areas of enforcement, we must step up efforts to unsaddle the "cocaine cowboys" and rein in the drug trade in our State.

We have already recognized the need for effective action. In 1979, under the leadership of Ralph Haben, Florida passed strong drug trafficking legislation that has earned praise and served as a national model.

We will further our fight against dangerous and illegal drugs by increasing narcotics law enforcement assistance to state and local agencies.

We must commit an additional $3 million to combat organized crime.

We must enact legislation to set aside civil forfeitures under the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organization Act, for increased assistance to local law enforcement.

This will ensure that ill-gotten gains pay for the costly local assistance in putting a stop to them.

In areas of adjudication we must not forget, in the press of the Criminal Justice System, those who often need us most: the victim and the witness.

We must statutorily recognize the Statewide Victim-Witness Coordinating Office, to promote a more sensitive treatment of victims and witnesses.

The vast majority of those incarcerated in our State's prisons eventually return to our State's communities.

To enhance the likelihood of law-abiding behavior upon release, we must concentrate future state prison construction in those areas from which most inmates come.

This will help maintain family relationships during imprisonment until release.

We must also expand the prison industry program to increase the Department of Corrections' self sufficiency, provide job skills for inmates, and create an income source to reimburse victims.

But we must guarantee that no convicted criminal ever is turned back into the street because we didn't have a jail cell to put him in. Our proposed budget meets this need by expanding our prison capacity by 1768 beds.

Many critical elements of our law enforcement program we can implement immediately. We must therefore enact them immediately. The people of Florida do not deserve another moment's delay.

I have consulted with Speaker Haben, President Childers, and Chief Justice Sundberg and we have all agreed that we must take these actions together—right now.

Immediate Law Enforcement Actions

I am directing that recruitment begin immediately for 150 additional Highway Patrolmen, including a new Strike Force to answer crime emergencies throughout the State.

These men and women will be on the streets as soon as possible after July 1.

I am directing that recruitment begin immediately for 441 additional staff for State Attorneys and 141 for Public Defenders to ease the overflowing case loads in our adjudicatory structures.

We will begin filling these positions now, so that our Court System starts working the way we need it to, on the very first day possible.

I am requesting that the Legislature enact by May 1 authorization for 27 new Judges.

I am directing the Judicial Nominating Commission to move forward as soon as you have acted because we need these Judges on our benches immediately.

I am directing that recruitment begin immediately for 74 additional corrections officers to maintain security and safety at our prisons, so that we have the new personnel on line by July 1.

We must act immediately to require a defendant's danger to the community to be considered in setting bail in violent crime and narcotics cases.

I call upon you to enact by May 1 firm but fair guidelines for the detention of juvenile offenders.

The detention criteria must ensure the State's ability to hold an alleged juvenile offender in a secure facility when it is determined that the juvenile represents a serious threat to the community.

Local Law Enforcement Assistance

While meeting the State's responsibility to protect our citizens, we must also assist local officials to discharge that same duty.

Much of the responsibility for enforcing the laws rests at the local level. In a democracy, law enforcement authority should be decentralized—our police should be responsive to the people they serve. There are many ways in which the State can assist local officials in carrying out their duties, however.

We must provide additional revenue to cities and counties to reduce their reliance on property taxes, and increase their ability to fight crime.

Our proposed budget provides additional State revenue sharing to local governments by indexing the total distribution to the growth in state general revenue.

Over the next five years this will increase local government revenue by $195 million.

Through our actions in the last two years, Florida has moved substantially toward a more equitable and uniform property tax base to support local government. I urge you to adopt the further refinements proposed by the finance and tax committees in each chamber.

State government must develop a permanent financial partnership with local law enforcement.

In 1947 the State acted to provide equal access to education opportunities for all Florida children.

A third of a century later we have an equally compelling responsibility to assure equal access to safe communities for all the people of Florida.

This partnership should be high on our agenda for the 1982 Legislative Session.

We must begin, however, to take many actions now. Particularly in assisting local law enforcement agencies in the recruitment and training of personnel.

The six largest law enforcement agencies in Florida protect 53 percent of our people and combat 60 percent of crime. But they have over 360 vacancies. We must act to assist in the filling of those positions.

We must also assume a greater share of the cost of law enforcement training.

We must relieve local law enforcement officials of the burdens of highway patrol and accident investigation by increasing the Florida Highway Patrol by one-third.

And we must initiate an innovative partnership for the enlargement, renovation and new construction of local jails.

Local Corrections Facilities Bond Issue

We are today facing a crisis in our correctional and detention facilities almost without precedent. Most local jails were constructed twenty—thirty—forty years ago, to hold the occasional trouble-maker and the Saturday night drunk.

Today they are called upon to house a growing and increasingly violent population. Local facilities are not large enough and not secure enough to meet the demands placed upon them.

Several counties are currently under court order or court threat to drastically reduce their prison populations. Local taxes are strained beyond their capability to finance the construction or rehabilitation of local correctional facilities.

If we stand still, our problem can only grow worse: Today there are 12,314 prisoners in county jails. By the year 2000 we will need to house over 17,000 county prisoners.

This crisis implores us to respond. I am today asking you to place before the voters this November a constitutional amendment which will authorize a state full faith and credit bond issue for local jails. In anticipation of a favorable vote by the people, I ask you to implement this program by statute with a $390 million bond issue.

Through this aid to local law enforcement, the State will meet 80% of the costs of needed facilities until the year 2000.

In recognition of past efforts, the State will reimburse 80% of the costs for local jails constructed or renovated since 1975.

Your action will send a strong message to the potential law breakers that Florida means business.

Through their vote on this amendment in November the people of Florida will be able to join us in the battle against crime.

These measures require of us both immediate action, and continuing attention. Without a safe and secure community in which to live, the hopes and efforts of our people for a more beautiful and bountiful State are in vain. Domestic tranquility, peace and justice under law—these are the foundation of our charge as public servants.

Let us move forward now to meet the test of a just and safe society.

The test of a people's courage comes in their willingness to face the present, the test of their wisdom comes in their willingness to face the future.

Floridians have the courage and the wisdom to seize this moment. But we must do so together. We are a State of ten million people—ten million carpenters, housewives, technicians and truckers, students, and government officials—who must work together to solve our current problems and plan for an even brighter future.

We must ensure that the work we do in the coming months, and the policies we enact, rise above narrow parochialism and short-sighted self-interest. Pressing problems will not excuse indecision; the demands of the long-run public interest will not forgive selfish quick-fixes.

When we shoulder it together, the burden is small for the benefits we will reap; a safer, more convenient transportation network; a quality education system; a strong economic base; a clean and viable environment; and a state that will not surrender one sidewalk or one citizen to violence and lawlessness.

When it is more comfortable to consider only our own well-being, we must have the courage to consider others. When it is more indulgent to bemoan our own small sacrifice, we must be wise enough to recognize our great common benefit, and when it is easier to think of what we would like to do, we must have the strength to think and to act on that which we must do.

Following the Governor's address, the committee previously appointed escorted the Governor from the rostrum and from the House chamber, followed by the Lieutenant Governor, members of the Cabinet and Justices of the Supreme Court.

On motion by Senator Barron, the Joint Session was dissolved at 11:49 a.m. and the Senators were escorted from the House Chamber by the Senate Sergeant at Arms.

By permission the following certificate was received:

SUPREME COURT OF FLORIDA

No. 60,359

IN RE: CERTIFICATE OF JUDICIAL MANPOWER FOR DISTRICT COURTS OF APPEAL, CIRCUIT COURTS AND COUNTY COURTS, AS REQUIRED BY ARTICLE V, SECTION 9, FLORIDA CONSTITUTION.

[March 13, 1981]

PER CURIAM.

Article V, Section 9 of the Florida Constitution provides: If the Supreme Court finds that a need exists for increasing... the number of judges... it shall, prior to the next regular session of the Legislature, certify to the Legislature its findings and recommendations concerning such need.

For the reasons set forth below, this Court has determined a need for the following new judicial positions, effective August 1, 1981, for the continued, effective operation of the courts of this state.

	District Court	Circuit Court	County Court
Second Appellate District	1
Third Appellate District	1
Fourth Appellate District	1
Sixth Judicial Circuit		1
Seventh Judicial Circuit		1	1	(Volusia)
Eighth Judicial Circuit		1
Ninth Judicial Circuit		1
Tenth Judicial Circuit		1
Eleventh Judicial Circuit		4		(Dade)
Twelfth Judicial Circuit		1	1	(Sarasota)
Thirteenth Judicial Circuit			1	(Hillsborough)
Fifteenth Judicial Circuit		1	2	(Palm Beach)
Seventeenth Judicial Circuit		2	1	(Broward)
Nineteenth Judicial Circuit		1	2
Twentieth Judicial Circuit		1	1	(Lee)
TOTALS	3	15	9

This Court is cognizant of the Legislature's desire to approach the budgeting process on a biennial basis. For this reason, the Court has identified clear needs which will exist in Fiscal Year 1982-1983, and based upon information currently available, certifies that there will be the need for at least the following new judicial positions, effective July 1, 1982, for the continued, effective operation of the courts of this State.

	District Court	Circuit Court	County Court
Sixth Judicial Circuit		1
Fifteenth Judicial Circuit		1
Seventeenth Judicial Circuit		2
Twentieth Judicial Circuit		1
TOTALS	0	5	0

The Court wishes to note a number of factors which could result in the need to later certify certain additional judgeships for the second year of the biennium:

(1) While we do not certify the need for an additional permanent judgeship for the First Appellate District in Fiscal Year 1981-1982, we recommend that the Legislature continue to make available one retired judge throughout the first year of the biennium and appropriate sufficient funds for this purpose in addition to the amounts already being requested for retired judges' compensation. As we pointed out in last year's certification, the Court feels there is a need to confirm the recent increase in filings over a longer period of time before concluding that this is a permanent condition. Although the First District continues to have the largest number of pending cases, this may still be due to the large number of cases transferred from the Industrial Relations Commission in 1979, and may abate with time. We will continue to observe the rate of new filings occurring in the First District and may find it necessary to certify the need for an additional permanent judgeship in the second year of the biennium, especially if the so-called TRIM bill (Chapter 80-274, Laws of Florida) begins to have an impact on the Court's caseload.

(2) The First Judicial Circuit has found it necessary to make extensive use of retired judges over the past year. Their total usage during calendar year 1980 was 278 judge days, second only to the Seventeenth Circuit's total of 351 judge days. While the filing per judge ratio alone in the First Circuit does not justify a certification of need at this time, the Court is aware of the extensive travel demands which occur in large rural circuits such as the First and which adversely affect the judge-time available for handling a normal caseload. The Court will monitor the First Circuit's use of retired judges to determine if it continues during the first year of the biennium to a degree which will demonstrate the need for an additional permanent judge for Fiscal Year 1982-1983.

(3) While caseload statistics and other observable factors do not at this time justify a certification of need for the Second Judicial Circuit, the anticipated impact of the so-called TRIM bill (Chapter 80-274, Laws of Florida) may necessitate a certification in the second year of the biennium. The Legislature recognized the possibility of an adverse effect on the Second Circuit when it passed the TRIM bill by funding an additional judicial position in that legislation, conditioned on Supreme Court certification. See Section 16, Chapter 80-274, Laws of Florida. Attempts to estimate the number of such proceedings which may eventuate have been unavailing so far. Hence the Court would prefer to observe the actual impact of this legislation before making this certification.

(4) Furthermore, pursuant to Article V, Section 9, Florida Constitution, which requires the Court to make an annual certification of judicial need to the Legislature, the Court must reserve the right to exercise its responsibility to later certify additional judgeships for the second year of the biennium in the event facts not now known become apparent which would make such action essential.

The process by which the Court determined the need for these additional judgeships began in the fall, 1980, with the distribution of caseload and population statistics to the Chief Judge in each District Court of Appeal as well as each of the State's twenty Judicial Circuits. Based upon that data and the needs which were perceived within each District and Circuit to meet their constitutional directive of providing all persons in Florida with equal access to the courts without delay, the Chief Judges submitted to the Court their recommendations for new judicial manpower. For the first year of the biennium (Fiscal Year 1981-1982), the Chief Judges asked that the Court consider four additional District Court judges, twenty new Circuit Court judges and twelve new County Court judgeships. For the second year of the biennium (Fiscal Year 1982-1983), the Chief Judges requested that the Court consider four additional District Court judges, twelve new Circuit judgeships and six additional County Court judges.

During December, 1980 and January, 1981, the Chief Justice and State Courts Administrator traveled to those sixteen circuits requesting new judgeships in order to evaluate their requests. Participating in these meetings were state attorneys, public defenders, county commissioners and other local officials, local Bar representatives, and legislative members and staffs, in addition to judicial officers and personnel. At the same time, additional statistical data was gathered and analyzed.

Following the Chief Justice's visits and analysis, the Court considered the requests of the Districts and Circuits, and the views of the Chief Justice on their needs. There were several criteria used by the Court in this process, including:

1. Caseload statistics, known and projected
2. Growth, nature and projections of population
3. Number of attorneys
4. Use and availability of retired judges
5. Presence of non-lawyer judges
6. Geographic size of the circuit
7. Presence of state facilities
8. Law enforcement activities and policies, including any substantial commitment of additional resources for state attorneys and public defenders
9. Time since the last new judgeship was authorized
10. Complexity of cases
11. Prior certifications which were not authorized.

The process of certifying the need for additional judgeships over the next biennium is not a process by which need can be objectively quantified through the use of a simple equation.

Unforeseen developments have an impact upon the judiciary of this State and result in needs which cannot be foreseen, such as occurred with the refugee influx in South Florida recently. The above criteria are considered by the Court in this process, but are not weighted in relation to each other, nor are they compressed into a mathematical formula which will predict with certainty the needs of the judiciary.

It will be noted that the Court's recommendation certifies to the Legislature nine fewer judicial positions in the first year, and seventeen fewer judicial positions in the second year of the biennium than have been requested by the District and Circuit Courts. Thus, over the biennium, the Court's recommendation of thirty-two new judgeships is a total of twenty-six new judgeships fewer than have been requested by the District and Circuit Courts.

FINDINGS

DISTRICT COURTS OF APPEAL

The Court has reviewed the requests of the Appellate Districts on the basis of standards recommended by the Appellate Court Structure Commission in 1979. As noted in the certification order filed April 2, 1979, the Florida Appellate Court Structure Commission composed of judges, lawyers, laymen and legislators concluded that to be effective and produce quality decisions, appellate judges should be principally responsible for review of not more than 250 cases, annually. See, In re: Certificate of Judicial Manpower for Circuit and County Courts as required by Article V, Section 9, Florida Constitution, 370 So. 2d 363 (Fla. 1979). That caseload objective was taken into consideration by the Court in its certification orders for 1979 and 1980. Although these certifications were consciously short of the articulated caseload standard, nonetheless, attainment of that standard has remained the goal for the appellate judiciary of this state. Of course, the objective is accentuated for the district courts of appeal by virtue of the passage of the recent constitutional amendment limiting the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court which accords true finality to district court decisions without statewide precedential effect. While this certification still does not achieve the desired standard it, nevertheless, moves us closer to the stated goal.

Second Appellate District. The Second District currently has eight judges. The need for an additional judge in the first year of the biennium is certified.

Some of the dominant factors upon which this certification is based are that the Second District has the highest total population as well as the highest population per judge of any of the Appellate Districts. See, In re Advisory Opinion to Governor, 374 S. 2d 959, 968 (Fla. 1979), (Overton, J., concurring). Case filings now existing and as projected justify the need for an additional judge so as to approach the standard 250 cases per judge adopted by this Court.

Third Appellate District. Currently, the Third District Court of Appeal has eight judges, and the need for one additional judge is certified for the first year of the biennium.

In 1979, two new judges were certified, but only one was authorized. The need for the second judge certified in 1979 has not abated, but has increased. In addition, the dominant factors considered by the Court in certifying this need are the high number of filings and projected filings for the Third District, as well as their increasing number of cases pending at the end of calendar year 1980 over those pending at the end of calendar year 1979. The Court feels that the need for this additional judge is evident in the first year of the biennium, although the Third District Court of Appeal did not request an additional judge until the second year of the biennium.

Fourth Appellate District. Currently, the Fourth District Court of Appeal has eight judges and the need for one additional judge in the first year of the biennium is certified.

The dominant factors considered by the Court in certifying this need are the high number of pending cases at the end of the last several calendar years, the growing population in the area, and the high caseload per judge which, based upon the Court's accepted standard of 250 cases per judge, justifies the need for this additional judgeship.

CIRCUIT AND COUNTY COURTS

Apart from pure statistical data relating to case filings in the following circuits which were considered by the Court, we set forth below the paramount considerations prompting our certification for the respective judicial circuits.

Sixth Judicial Circuit (Pinellas and Pasco Counties). There are currently twenty-six Circuit and thirteen County Court judges in the Sixth Circuit. The need for one additional Circuit judge in each year of the biennium is certified. The dominant factors considered by the Court in certifying this need are that the Circuit ranks fifth in population per judge and eighth in combined rankings of filings, attorneys and population per judge ratios, the recent growth in northern Pinellas and Pasco Counties and the projected 34.3 percent growth between 1975 and 1985. Furthermore the anticipated opening of a new criminal justice complex in mid-Pinellas County in the early part of calendar year 1982 will affect the scheduling of cases and will require more judge travel time to effectively service the civil and criminal dockets if an additional judge is not authorized in the second year of the biennium.

Seventh Judicial Circuit (Volusia, Flagler, St. Johns and Putnam Counties). Currently, the Seventh Circuit has twelve Circuit and eight County Court judges. The need for one Circuit and one County Court judge in Volusia County is certified in the first year of the biennium.

The dominant factors considered by the Court in this certification are that the Circuit ranked third in filings per Circuit judge during 1980, the burgeoning arrest rate in Volusia County according to the Department of Law Enforcement's 1979 Annual Report, the nature of the population including a very high transient and tourist population as well as the projected population increase of 33.9 percent from 1975 to 1985, and the regular use of County Court judges on the Circuit bench.

The highest filing per County Court judge ratio in the State is found in Volusia County.

Eighth Judicial Circuit (Alachua, Union, Bradford, Baker, Gilchrist and Levy Counties). There are currently seven Circuit and nine County Court judges in the Eighth Circuit, and the need for one additional Circuit judge in the first year of the biennium is certified.

The dominant factors considered by the Court are geographic size of the Circuit which consists of six counties and which results in considerable travel time, the fact that seven major correctional facilities as well as other state facilities are located in the Circuit, and the extensive use of County Court judges on the Circuit bench which includes one being used full time as a circuit judge for the past year. However, increased county court caseloads preclude continued use of this judge on the circuit bench. In addition, the public defender in the Eighth Judicial Circuit has reported a dramatic increase in felony and juvenile cases compared with last year which resulted in his request for a moratorium on new assignments.

Ninth Judicial Circuit (Orange and Osceola Counties). There are currently seventeen Circuit and twelve County Court judges in the Ninth Circuit. The need for one additional Circuit judge is certified in the first year of the biennium.

The dominant factors considered by the Court are the fact that the Circuit ranks third in the ratio of attorneys per judge, the nature of the population including a high number of tourists and commuters, the need for an additional judge in the Civil Division which has not had a new judge since 1972, and the substantial planned development associated with both the public and private sector in the Circuit.

Tenth Judicial Circuit (Polk, Highlands and Hardee Counties). There are currently twelve Circuit and eight County Court judges in the Tenth Circuit, and the need for one additional Circuit judge in the first year of the biennium is certified.

The dominant factors considered in this certification are the policies of the state attorney which appear to be resulting in more jury trials due to an extensive no plea bargaining policy, the high number of complex drug and organized crime cases being reported in the Circuit, as well as the considerable travel time involved in the Circuit. In addition, the Circuit ranks fourth in its filing per judge ratio, and two of its County Court judges are non-lawyers.

Eleventh Judicial Circuit (Dade County). The Eleventh Circuit currently has fifty-one Circuit and thirty-one County Court judges. The need for four Circuit judges and one County Court judge for Dade County is certified in the first year of the biennium.

Since 1972, only five Circuit judgeships have been authorized. During the same period of time, eight new County Court judges were authorized. There is an expectation that Dade County and the City of Miami will hire a total of an additional 400 law enforcement officers in the next year and that this, along with the impact of minimum-mandatory sentencing laws, will result in more cases being filed, as well as an increase in the number of jury trials.

Ten branch courthouses are being operated in the Circuit which has a total of twenty-six municipalities. First appearance hearings are now held twice a day, seven days a week, and will soon have to be held three times a day.

Additional considerations are the sizable request for additional personnel for the state attorney in the next biennium, the high number of attorneys per judge in the Circuit, which ranks second in the State in this category, the highest number of total filings in the State, and the significant tourist and immigrant population which is affecting judicial caseload.

The additional judge County Court is necessary due to the total caseload being experienced in the County courts which is the largest of any county in the State in all filing categories, and which ranks fourteenth in the State in filing per judge ratio.

Twelfth Judicial Circuit (Sarasota, Manatee and DeSota Counties). The Twelfth Circuit currently has nine Circuit and six County Court judges. The need for one Circuit and one County Court judge in Sarasota County is certified.

The dominant factors considered by the Court are that the Circuit has had only one Circuit judgeship authorized since 1972, the fact that the Circuit ranks second in population per Circuit judge, and ranks first in the State in combined ratios of filings, attorneys and population per Circuit judge. The population of the Circuit is projected to increase 43.1 percent between 1975 and 1985. Sarasota County ranks fifth in its ratio of total filings per County Court judge.

Thirteenth Judicial Circuit (Hillsborough County). The Thirteenth Circuit currently has twenty-four Circuit and nine County Court Judges. The need for two additional County Court judges is certified in the first year of the biennium.

The dominant factors considered by the Court are that the County has had no new County Court judgeships since 1973, the very high population per County Court judge in Hillsborough County compared with other counties in the State, and that Hillsborough County ranks second in the State in filings per County Court judge.

Fifteenth Judicial Circuit (Palm Beach County). Currently, the Fifteenth Circuit has eighteen Circuit and nine County Court judges. In the first year of the biennium, the need for one Circuit and one County Court judge for Palm Beach County is certified and, in the second year of the biennium, the need for an additional Circuit judge is certified.

The dominant factors considered by the Court are that County Court judges have served on the Circuit bench over the past year an average of 1.7 circuit judge years, delays of from eight to twelve months are occurring before a trial can be held after a motion to set a case for trial is filed, the projected 51 percent increase in population between 1975 and 1985, and the dramatic increase in the number of attorneys since 1972. In addition, the state attorney has requested a significant increase in staff over the next biennium.

In 1980, a County Court judgeship was certified, but was not authorized and, since that time, county filings have increased. Palm Beach County ranks third in the State in its ratio of filings per County Court judge.

Seventeenth Judicial Circuit (Broward County). Currently, the Seventeenth Circuit has thirty-six Circuit and fifteen County Court judges. In the first year of the biennium, the need for two Circuit and two County Court judges for Broward County is certified and, in the second year of the biennium, the need for two additional Circuit judges is certified.

There has been a 64 percent increase in population since 1970 from about 600,000 to approximately one million in 1980, and projected growth between 1975 and 1985 is estimated to be 34.4 percent. There is also a very large tourist and transient population, resulting in a population which may be characterized as non-static. In addition to these factors, other factors considered by the Court are that the Circuit ranks eighth in filings per Circuit judge and that the Circuit ranks second in total filings, the second highest total number of attorneys of any Circuit in the state, the very high juvenile caseload due to a large number of runaways who arrive in the Fort Lauderdale area, and current delays of from one year to eighteen months which are being experienced in obtaining a trial date.

In 1980 two County Court judgeships were certified but not authorized and the need perceived at that time has not decreased. The County also ranks seventh in the State in filings per County Court judge.

Nineteenth Judicial Circuit (Martin, St. Lucie, Indian River and Okeechobee Counties). The Nineteenth Circuit currently has seven Circuit and six County Court judges. The need for one Circuit judge in the first year of the biennium is certified.

The dominant factors considered by the Court are the size of the Circuit which requires extensive travel, a projected 53.8 percent population growth between 1975 and 1985, an increase which is being experienced in complex drug cases as well as the significant increase in staff which the state attorney is requesting over the next biennium. One circuit judgeship was certified in 1980 but not authorized and since that time the need for this additional judge has increased.

Twentieth Judicial Circuit (Collier, Lee, Hendry, Glades and Charlotte Counties). Currently, there are nine Circuit and eight County Court judges in the Twentieth Circuit. One additional Circuit and one additional County Court judgeship for Lee County are certified in the first year of the biennium. In the second year of the biennium, an additional circuit judgeship is certified.

The dominant factors considered by the Court are the very large geographical area of the Circuit which includes five large counties, its very long and undeveloped coastline, the dramatic increase in complex drug cases which is being experienced, the significant increase in resources requested by the state attorney, the highest population per Circuit judge in the State, the fact that it ranks third in combined ratios of filings, attorneys and population per Circuit judge, and the projected 68.9 percent increase in population between 1975 and 1985 in the Circuit, which is the highest in the State. In addition, the number of attorneys in the Circuit has more than doubled since 1972.

Lee County has the third highest number of jury trials in the State and the last County Court judgeship authorized was in 1975. The filing per County Court judge ratio in Lee County ranks sixth in the State.

CERTIFICATION

Therefore, in accordance with Article V, Section 9, Florida Constitution, we certify the need for the additional District, Circuit and County Court judgeships indicated above. This Court certifies that these judicial officers are necessary and we recommend that they be made permanent by law and funded by the State. In addition this Court recommends that the Legislature make available to the First Appellate District one retired judge for Fiscal Year 1981-1982, with sufficient resources specifically for this purpose.

The following Executive Orders were filed with the Secretary:

EXECUTIVE ORDER NUMBER 80-57

(Executive Order of Suspension)

WHEREAS, Raymond Bruner is presently serving as Clerk of the Circuit Court, Jackson County, Florida, and

WHEREAS, allegations of sexual harassment in office have been made against Raymond Bruner, and

WHEREAS, after evaluating evidence presented relative to the allegations, the Governor believes that justice would best be served, and that it is in the best interest of the Citizens of the State of Florida that Raymond Bruner be suspended from public office, upon the grounds hereinafter set forth;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, BOB GRAHAM, as Governor, pursuant to the Constitution and Laws of the State of Florida, do hereby find, determine, and for the purpose of Section 112.41, Florida Statutes, allege as follows:

A. Raymond Bruner is, and at all times material hereto was, Clerk of the Circuit Court, Jackson County, Florida.

B. The office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court is within the purview of the suspension powers of the Governor pursuant to Article IV, Section 7, Florida Constitution.

C. The suspension is predicated upon the following incidents:

1. During the period of time beginning in 1973 and continuing through 1979, thus showing a continuing course of intentional conduct, at least thirteen female applicants for employment and female employees at the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court, Jackson County, Florida, were subjected to improper sexual advances by Raymond Bruner, Clerk of the Circuit Court. The ages of these female applicants and employees ranged from sixteen to early twenties; most were unemployed at the time they applied, had no special training or employment skills, many were divorced or separated from their husbands and had small children to support. The great majority had not met Raymond Bruner prior to the employment interview. The employment interviews were conducted privately between Raymond Bruner and each of the female applicants. The nature of the improper sexual advances, all of which took place in various parts of the Circuit Court Clerk's Office, included the following specific actions:

a. During the employment interview, Raymond Bruner made statements to certain female applicants implying that their employment with his office would be contingent upon their bestowing sexual favors upon him; that they would go together on business trips (with the implication that sexual favors would be expected); that their conditions of employment would include future sexual favors and companionship after office hours, specifically, invitations to his beach cottage.

b. During the employment interview, Raymond Bruner, in several instances, either locked the doors of the Clerk's office, or made it appear that he locked the inner doors of the Clerk's office, and would not allow the female employment applicants to leave the office area, even though the females requested they be allowed to leave after he had made sexual advances toward them, and he continued to make sexual advances toward the applicants while they were locked in the Clerk's office.

c. In certain instances during the employment interview, and in certain instances during employment after being hired by Raymond Bruner, these women were subjected to improper sexual advances in actual physical form, including actual physical touching, grabbing, kissing or attempted kissing, pinching, patting, and rubbing, all against their will.

d. After being hired by Raymond Bruner, while employed, certain female employees were subjected to improper sexual advances in oral and visual form, including his questioning them about their personal sexual life; telling them sexually-oriented jokes; showing the female employees sexually-oriented pictures and cartoons, showing them sexual devices and notions; offering money to several of the female employees and actually giving money to certain female employees; and inviting many of the female employees to be alone with him at his home during employment hours or to go to his beach cottage during employment hours and at other times, with the implication that sexual favors would be expected.

2. In several instances, after the incidents of sexual harassment occurred, Raymond Bruner attempted to cover up the incidents by using various methods to procure affidavits from the women falsely stating that he had never acted improperly toward them in any manner. Such methods included enticements of employment, or upgraded employment in his office, offers of money or other items of value, and assurances that other people had signed similar affidavits.

3. Raymond Bruner's actions toward these female employment applicants and employees were knowing and calculated. Raymond Bruner acted with the realization of his position as Clerk of the Circuit Court and as the employer or potential employer of these women. Raymond Bruner acted with the realization of the subordinate position of the females who were his employees or applicants for employment. Raymond Bruner used his position to sexually harass these female applicants and employees.

D. The facts alleged herein constitute the offenses of malfeasance and misfeasance as such offenses are used in Article IV, Section 7, Florida Constitution.

E. The interest of the Citizens of the State of Florida can best be served by the immediate suspension of Raymond Bruner from the public office which he now holds.

BEING FULLY ADVISED in the premises, and in accordance with the Constitution and Laws of the State of Florida, this Executive Order is hereby promulgated effective immediately:

1. Raymond Bruner is hereby suspended from the public office which he now holds, to-wit: Clerk of the Circuit Court, Jackson County, Florida.

2. Raymond Bruner is hereby prohibited from performing any official act, duty or function of public office, from receiving any pay or allowances, and from being entitled to any of the emoluments or privileges of public office during the period of this suspension, which period shall be from the effective date hereof, until further executive order, or as otherwise provided by law.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Florida to be affixed at Tallahassee, the Capitol, this 27 day of June 1980.
