Excused: Senator Brown-Waite

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Rev. Rodney Frank, Jr., Pastor, Calvary Apostolic Faith Church, Tampa:

Heavenly Father, we humbly come in your divine presence this morning with our hearts and heads bowed before you, thanking you for allowing us once again to see another beautiful day. We thank you for assembling these great men and women, whom you have ordained to be leaders and representatives of your people.

We pray this morning for your forgiveness and seek divine blessings upon this Senate and their families. Father, let the spirit of love and unity embrace this Senate Chamber. Grant them the wisdom and knowledge to govern this state for the welfare of thy people. All these blessings we claim in Jesus' name. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senate Pages Adrienne Riley of Tallahassee and Hilary Deutch of Boca Raton, led the Senate in the pledge of allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

DOCTOR OF THE DAY

The President recognized Senators Peaden and Sullivan as doctors of the day.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION

Upon request of the President, Senator Silver joined the President at the rostrum.

On motion by Senator Jones, the following remarks were ordered spread upon the Journal:

Mr. President: Senators, we had a proclamation yesterday in joint session honoring the new Dean of the Legislature. The Dean of the Senate used to be Senator Childers, but of course, with term limits he is no longer here. I think we are all honored that the Dean of the Legislature, someone who has a lot of experience and who has been a friend to all of us, is a member of this Senate. We are fortunate to have him for the next two years, before Senator Silver and myself, along with some of the rest of us, are term limited out as well. I did not have a chance to present this proclamation to him yesterday and I wanted to do that now. If anybody wishes to be brave and make any remarks about our good friend, then they are welcome to do so. So Senator, congratulations.

Senator Latvala, you are recognized.

Senator Latvala: I want to say to my best friend in this body, Senator Silver, that he certainly deserves the honor that has been bestowed upon him as Dean of the Legislature. He has been a great mentor to me and a lot of other folks that are here. I think the important thing is that, with only one or two exceptions that some of us have seen in the back where he sits—under the press ledge—he always retains a good humor. He is always willing to work with us in trying to do the people's work and do the best thing for the people of the State of Florida. It's really an honor and a privilege for me to be able to serve with Ron.

Mr. President: Well said, Senator. Senator Jones, you are recognized.

Senator Jones: Thank you Mr. President. While I have sat next to Senator Silver for the last eight years, I'm not sure if you want to congratulate me or give me condolences. But actually, it has really been an honor. Senator Silver is a person that I have watched go through a whole host of different emotions based upon the issue of the day. I'll tell you one thing about him, and I think it's true for just about all of us, but in particular for Ron Silver, he's a person who deeply cares about this process, who deeply cares about the people of Florida, and deeply cares about this Senate. He cares about every vote that he makes. He wants to make sure at every turn that he's doing what is the best thing that he can possibly do for the people of Florida. I tell you, that emotion and that feeling, and that personal dedication has rubbed off on me. Senator Silver, I want you to know how much I appreciate being next to you, and listening to you, and consulting with you, and having fun with you all these years. I get to enjoy you for another two sessions. I'm going to miss you a lot when it's all over. You've helped me understand how important the collegiality of this Senate is and how deeply the friendships run, even after we leave. It's no surprise that during the reunions that everybody comes back and spends time because of those feelings. It's been wonderful being next to you.

Mr. President: Well said. Senator King, you are recognized.

Senator King: Thank you, Mr. President. You know what goes around, comes around. In 1986 when I was elected, Ron was the Majority Leader. I learned a great deal from him. Everything he does, he does with gusto. One of the things I learned from him was that if you are in it, be in it to win, but have a good time doing it, and when it's all over, win or lose, remember that this is a collegial body and go have a good time. Now I will swear to the fact that Ron knows how to have a good time. In fact, some of my best memories have been when Ron and I have gone and had a good time. But more importantly, and I think that Senator Jones probably said it best, and I'll just pick up on it. When it's all said and done, and we're gone, and we're back home telling grandchildren about what it was like to serve, we're going to be talking about the relationships for whatever reason and on whatever issues, fun or work, that we had with Senator Silver. Ron, you've been a treasure to us for a long, long time.

Mr. President: Senator Rossin, you are recognized.

Senator Rossin: Thank you very much, Mr. President. Senator King mentioned grandchildren. Later this session my grandchild, Jonathan, will be a page in the Senate. Jonathan had the distinct advantage of meeting and getting to know Senator Silver several years ago. I thought it was important for him to come back and see the Senate in actual operation and to see Senator Silver in his Senatorial role. But in all seriousness, Senator Silver has been a friend to all of us, I think, in this body. He has exemplified what this Senate is all about—the passion, the interest, the concern not only for each other, but for the State of Florida. I think for everyone of us, it has been a pleasure and honor to serve with you. Thank you very much, Senator Silver.

Mr. President: Senator Silver, there are not many people that have the opportunity to speak following hearing something that might be akin to their own eulogy. Senator Silver is recognized.

Senator Silver: I was a little more concerned after making it through Senator Latvala and Senator King and my good friend, Senator Jones and then Senator Rossin. I would hope that we wouldn't go any further because there are some other stories that some other people might have.

Mr. President, especially to you, I want to tell you how much and how meaningful that ceremony was yesterday. I know you initiated it. I know the Speaker joined in with you to do that. I'm very, very appreciative to you. Service in this Legislature is very special. Not very many people get to do this. Only one person in my district, as everywhere else, gets to come up here and represent the entire district. We have approximately 350,000 people in that district. I still think about this when we have the opening session, about how grateful I am to my constituents for sending me up here. This is the twenty-third year of sending me back and most of the time without opposition, which to me is still befuddling because we have so many activists and so many people that want to do this. I am just so grateful to them. But to you, Mr. President, and to this entire body, I want to sincerely thank you for your recognition yesterday. I look forward to working with each and every one of you for the rest of the session. Thank you very much.
