I. Summary:

This bill authorizes the University of West Florida to conduct a Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree program and authorizes the Florida Atlantic University to conduct a Master's in Social Work degree program.

This bill creates two sections of law; the Division of Statutory Revision will determine whether they will become statutes or remain in the 2001 Laws of Florida.

II. Present Situation:

Current law requires the Legislature to approve any new program leading to a degree that is required as a condition for a license granted under the Florida Statutes.

The Board of Nursing requires proof of graduation from an approved nursing program as a condition of licensure to practice as a registered nurse or a licensed practical nurse.

The University of West Florida currently has a 2-year nursing program to allow registered nurses to earn the Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree. In November 2000, the Board of Regents approved a full 4-year (124-credit hour) generic Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree program at the University of West Florida with expected enrollment in fall of 2001. The university estimates the cost for the first year to be $512,260, and projects the cost to be $667,759 by the fifth year, when the first freshman class graduates. The estimated enrollment is 60 students, or 45 full-time-equivalent students.

Section 491.005, F.S., requires graduation from an accredited graduate school of social work as a condition of licensure as a clinical social worker. For programs in the United States, accreditation must be by the Council on Social Work Education.

In July 2000, the Board of Regents approved the request of Florida Atlantic University to implement a Master's in Social Work program. The university projects 40 students to enroll in the first year, or 20 full-time-equivalent students. Under full implementation in 5 years, the estimated enrollment is 160 students (100 FTE) at a cost of $536,460. The cost estimate is low because the university has faculty in place and will need to commit only five new faculty lines to the program.)

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The legislation under consideration authorizes the University of West Florida to conduct a Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree program. It authorizes the Florida Atlantic University to conduct a Master's in Social Work degree program.
