SUMMARY ANALYSIS

The bill amends the Adult Protective Services Act to allow the Department of Children and Families (DCF) explicit authority to protect persons from the effects of self-neglect.

The bill is effective upon becoming law.

FULL ANALYSIS

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. HOUSE PRINCIPLES ANALYSIS:

Provide limited government; promote personal responsibility --- The bill amends the Adult Protective Services Act to allow DCF explicit authority to protect persons from the effects of self-neglect.

B. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Chapter 415, F.S., the Adult Protective Services Act, provides statutory authority to DCF to investigate reports of alleged second party abuse, neglect and exploitation of vulnerable adults<sup>1</sup> caused by the vulnerable adult himself, i.e., self-neglect.<sup>2</sup> In Fiscal Year 2003-2004, DCF investigated 6,394 cases reported to the Florida Abuse Hotline which were verified or contained some indications of self-neglect (other than medical neglect).<sup>3</sup> Over 40 percent of these self-neglect cases occurred in persons over 80 years of age.

The Adult Protective Services program is a system of specialized social services directed toward protecting vulnerable adults who are unable to manage their own affairs from further occurrences of abuse, neglect, or exploitation. The department sends staff to make an assessment of an individual's need for protective services after a reported allegation of abuse, neglect, or exploitation is received at the Hotline. Adult Protective Services includes four basic elements:

1. The on-site investigation of all reports of alleged abuse, neglect, or exploitation;
2. Determination of immediate risk to the vulnerable adult and the provision of necessary emergency services;
3. Evaluation of the need for and provision of on-going protective supervision; and,
4. Provision or arrangement of on-going protective services.

If a vulnerable adult is in danger of continued abuse, neglect, or exploitation, staff from the Aging Services Program provides services through the authority of the Protective Supervision Program.

The current definition of "neglect" in s. 415.102(15), F.S., does not include neglect caused by the vulnerable adult, and DCF's authority to provide services in cases of self-neglect has been questioned by the courts.<sup>4</sup>

HB 991 adds "vulnerable adult" to the definition of "neglect" in s. 415.102(15), F.S., and adds "vulnerable adult in need of services"<sup>5</sup> to s. 415.1051(1), F.S., relating to Non-emergency protective services. These changes will give DCF explicit authority to provide voluntary services or petition the court for involuntary non-emergency services and protective supervision when an investigation determines that the vulnerable adult is neglecting himself or herself.

C. SECTION DIRECTORY:

Section 1: Amends s. 415.102(15), F.S.; adds “vulnerable adult” to the definition of “neglect” to include within the definition of neglect the concept of self-neglect.

Section 2: Amends s. 415.1051(1), F.S.; adds “vulnerable adult in need of services” to include, within the department’s authority to seek an order authorizing the provision of protective services, those persons determined to have neglected themselves.

Section 3: Provides the act is effective upon becoming law.
