SUMMARY ANALYSIS

Current law permits an institution in the Florida College System to change its name and use the designation "college" or "state college" if the name change has been approved by the institution's district board of trustees, the institution has been authorized to grant baccalaureate degrees, and the institution has been accredited as a baccalaureate-degree-granting institution by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. A district board of trustees that approves such a name change must seek statutory codification of the name change during the next regular legislative session.

House Bill 245 amends statute to replace references to "Palm Beach Community College" with "Palm Beach State College" and references to "Seminole Community College" with "Seminole State College of Florida." Each college has complied with the statutory requirements for its name change.

The fiscal impact of the bill is indeterminate. (See FISCAL COMMENTS)

The bill takes effect upon becoming a law.

HOUSE PRINCIPLES

Members are encouraged to evaluate proposed legislation in light of the following guiding principles of the House of Representatives

- Lower the tax burden on families and businesses.
- Reverse or restrain the growth of government.
- Promote public safety.
- Promote educational accountability, excellence, and choice.
- Foster respect for the family and for innocent human life.
- Protect Florida's natural beauty.

FULL ANALYSIS

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Background

As used in the Florida K-20 Education Code, the term "Florida college" includes the following institutions in the Florida College System: Brevard Community College; Broward College; Central Florida Community College; Chipola College; Daytona State College; Edison State College; Florida State College at Jacksonville; Florida Keys Community College; Gulf Coast Community College; Hillsborough Community College; Indian River State College; Lake City Community College; Lake-Sumter Community College; State College of Florida, Manatee-Sarasota; Miami Dade College; North Florida Community College; Northwest Florida State College; Palm Beach Community College; Pasco-Hernando Community College; Pensacola Junior College; Polk State College; St. Johns River Community College; St. Petersburg College; Santa Fe College; Seminole Community College; South Florida Community College; Tallahassee Community College; and Valencia Community College.¹

With the approval of its district board of trustees, a Florida college may change the name of the institution as set forth in s. 1000.21(3), F.S., and use the designation "college" or "state college" if it has been authorized to grant baccalaureate degrees and has been accredited as a baccalaureate-degree-granting institution by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.²

A district board of trustees that approves a Florida college to use the designation "college" or "state college" must seek statutory codification of the name change during the next regular legislative session.³
