II. Present Situation:

Article V of the Florida Constitution establishes the judicial branch of government, including prescribing the various courts in which the judicial power is vested. The Florida State Courts System consists of all officers, employees, and divisions of the entities noted below.¹

- The Supreme Court, the highest state appellate court, has seven justices and statewide jurisdiction. The Chief Justice is the administrator of the state courts system. The court also regulates admission of lawyers to The Florida Bar and the discipline of judges and lawyers.
- The district courts of appeal, the state appellate courts, have jurisdiction within the limits of their five geographic districts and are served by approximately 60 judges.
- The circuit courts, the highest level trial court in each of the 20 judicial circuits, are served by approximately 600 judges. The circuit courts hear, for example, felony cases, family law matters, and civil cases over $15,000.
- The county courts, the lowest level trial courts, with at least one judge in each county, are served by approximately 320 judges. The county courts hear, for example, misdemeanor cases, small claims cases, and civil cases under $15,000.

Some of the other entities that also have a role in the judicial system include:

- Office of the State Courts Administrator, created by the Supreme Court to assist in administering the state courts system;
- Judicial nominating commissions, which recommend persons to fill judicial vacancies;
- Judicial Qualifications Commission, which investigates and recommends discipline of judges;
- Clerks of court, who have multiple responsibilities, including keeping a docket for court cases, reporting case filings and dispositions, and collecting court costs and fees;
- State attorneys, who prosecute or defend on behalf of the state, all suits, applications, or motions, civil or criminal, in which the state is a party;
- Attorney General, who represents the state in criminal appeals and other issues related to state agency legal actions;
- Statewide Prosecutor, who prosecutes on behalf of the state for crimes that include multiple jurisdictions;
- Public defenders, who represent indigent persons charged with a felony or certain misdemeanors, alleged delinquents, and other persons, such as alleged mentally ill persons, who are being involuntarily placed (usually for health care reasons);
- Capital Collateral Regional Counsels, who represent indigent persons in death row appeals; and
- Sheriffs, who are responsible for executing all processes of the courts and for the provision of bailiffs.
