SB 118 Legislative Travel Reimbursement by Senator Bullard

Authorizes that if the cost of travel to visit an immediate family member in the case of death or serious illness is less than the cost of travel between the legislator's or staff member's home and the seat of government, each legislator and his or her staff members shall be paid travel expenses in accordance with specified provisions. Provides for one single round trip during any regular, special, or extraordinary session or for the convening of either the House or Senate for official business. (See bill for details)
